Spirit. The transformation that will occur over the next thirty years could not be more dramatic. Like the mythological Phoenix, the park will rise from the ashes, a living testament to the resilience of nature and the highest aspirations of the human spirit, a change from something discarded and dismissed into something desirable. Themes of hope and renewal, memory and loss, will co-exist, mirroring nature's eternal cycle of birth, death, and rebirth.

Mind. As the park evolves over time, and is experienced by people from all over the world, new levels of meaning will accrue. Visitors will be exhilarated and enthralled - transformed - by what they see and do and learn. Interpretive programs will engage all the senses, employing those facets of human nature that allow us to understand and deeply appreciate the world we live in: our creativity, spirituality, ingenuity, inventiveness, and curiosity.

Operation

phasing notes - phase 2A Regrade (garbage + soil) north half of Section 6/7 - phase 2B Regrade (garbage + soil) south half of Section 6/7 - construct Field Houses - reforestation of slopes - establish meadows and recreational fields - initiate freshwater marsh restoration - construct pedestrian bridge "Circle" - complete proposed interchange at Westshore Expressway

phase two

Transformation

phasing notes - scrape peninsula clear of structures - cut channel, creating Lake Island - relocate waste stockpile to Section 1/9 to establish The Fields - relocate truck parking and maintenance facilities to Transfer Station - construct north-south bridge and Exhibition Hall - construct Ferry Terminal and Boat Houses - construct community centers along Richmond Avenue

phase three

patches

flow (ecology + roads)

summary

strategy

concept