§ 185. FEES

1. CIRCUMSTANCES PERMITTING FEE. An employment agency shall not charge or accept a fee or other consideration unless in accordance with the terms of a written contract with a job applicant, except for class "A" and "A-1" employment, and except after such agency has been responsible for referring such job applicant to an employer or such employer to a job applicant and where as a result thereof such job applicant has been employed by such employer. The maximum fees provided for herein for all types of placements or employment may be charged to the job applicant and a similar fee may be charged to the employer provided, however, that with regard to placements in class "B" employment, a fee of up to one and one-half times the fee charged to the job applicant may be charged to the employer. By agreement with an employment agency, the employer may voluntarily assume payment of the job applicant's fee. The fees charged to employers by any licensed person conducting an employment agency for rendering services in connection with, or for providing employment in classes "A", "A-1" and "B", as hereinafter defined in subdivision four of this section where the applicant is not charged a fee shall be determined by agreement between the employer and the employment agency. No fee shall be charged or accepted for the registration of applicants for employees or employment.

2. SIZE OF FEE; PAYMENT SCHEDULE. The gross fee charged to the job applicant and the gross fee charged to the employer each shall not exceed the amounts enumerated in the schedules set forth in this section, for any single employment or engagement, except as hereinabove provided; and such fees shall be subject to the provisions of section one hundred eighty-six of this article. Except as otherwise provided herein, an employment agency shall not require an applicant while employed in the continental United States, and paid weekly to pay any fee at a rate greater than in ten equal weekly installments each of which shall be payable at the end of each of the first ten weeks of employment, or if paid less frequently, in five equal installments, each of which shall be payable at the end of the first five pay periods following his employment, or within a period of ten weeks, whichever period is longer. An employer's fee shall be due and payable at the time the applicant begins employment, unless otherwise determined by agreement between the employer and the agency.

3. DEPOSITS, ADVANCE FEES. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, an employment agency may not require a deposit or advance fee from any applicant except an applicant for class "A" or class "A1" employment, and only to the extent of the maximum fees hereinafter provided. Such deposit or advance fee shall be offset against any fee charged or accepted when such employment is obtained. Any excess above the lawful fee shall be returned without demand therefor, immediately after the employment agency has been notified that such employment has been obtained; and all of such deposit or advance fee shall be returned immediately upon demand therefor, if at the time of the demand such employment has not been obtained.

4. TYPES OF EMPLOYMENT. For the purpose of placing a ceiling over the fees charged by persons conducting employment agencies, types of employment shall be classified as follows:

CLASS "A"--domestics, household employees, unskilled or untrained manual workers and laborers, including agricultural workers;

(See § 184 for requirements concerning out-of-state domestic workers.)

CLASS "A1"--non-professional trained or skilled industrial workers or mechanics;

6. FEE CEILING: For a placement in Class "A1" employment the gross fee shall not exceed one week's wages where all parties to the employment agreement understand or agree at the time the employment is entered into that it shall be for a period for ten weeks or more. Where all parties to the employment contract agree and understand at the time the employment contract is entered into that it shall be for a period shorter than ten weeks, the gross fee shall not exceed ten per cent of the wages or salary actually received.

7. FEE CEILING: For a placement in Class "B" employment the gross fee shall not exceed, in percentage of the first full month's salary or wages, the following:

Where all parties to the employment contract agree and understand at the time the employment contract is entered into that it shall be for a period shorter than four months the gross fee shall not exceed fifty percent of the fee prescribed in the schedule in this subdivision or ten percent of the wages or salary actually received, whichever is less.

8. FEE CEILING: For a placement in class "C" employment the gross

Domestic or Household Employees: Statement of Employee Rights and Employer Responsibilities

This handout describes some of the basic rights of domestic or household employees and some responsibilities that their employers must fulfill. Please note that this document does not list every employee right or employer responsibility covered by state and federal law. For more information about a specific right or responsibility, you should contact the relevant state or federal agency listed below.

If you have additional questions for the Department of Consumer Affairs, call 3-1-1 (or 212-New-York outside New York City).

Minimum Wage: All employees are entitled to be paid at least the minimum wage of $7.25 per hour.

Overtime: Employees who work overtime are entitled to be paid at one and one-half times the regular rate of pay. Household employees who live outside the worksite are entitled to this overtime rate after working 40 hours per week. Employees who live at the worksite are entitled to this overtime rate after working 44 hours per week.

Timely Payment: Employees must be paid their full salary on a weekly basis, and within seven calendar days of the concluding workweek. Employers must also provide a statement that shows the employee's gross wages, deductions and net wages.

Time Off: Employees are entitled to at least one day off (24 consecutive hours) every week.

Meals and Lodging: There are minimum standards for meals and lodging which, in part, provide that employees who work a six-hour shift are entitled to a meal break of at least 30 minutes during the course of the shift.

Notice: Employers must notify employees at the time of hiring of the rate of pay and regular payday. Additionally, employers must notify employees in writing of the employer's policy on sick leave, vacation, personal leave, holidays and hours of work. Employers must also notify employees in writing of the date of termination from employment and the date of cancellation of employee benefits, not more than five working days after the date of termination from employment.

Record Keeping: Employers must maintain accurate records for three years, showing the hours worked, the rate of pay, the deductions taken from wages and the name, address and date of birth of every employee.

Social Security: Social Security and Medicare taxes must be paid for all employees earning more than $1,400 annually. Employees must pay half of the amount due, or 7.65% of the gross wages, which is to be deducted from wages earned. Additionally, employers must pay half of the amount due, or 7.65% of the gross wages, which is to be paid from the employer's own funds. Employers must obtain an employer i.d. number from the Social Security Administration and must keep an accurate accounting of tax deductions.

Income Taxes: Employers are not required to withhold income taxes from an employee's wages unless the employee asks the employer to do so in writing and both parties agree.

Workers' Compensation: Employers must buy workers' compensation coverage for employees who work more than 40 hours per week. Workers' Compensation provides compensation for injuries or death that occur during the course of employment. Employers cannot deduct the cost of these payments from the employee's salary.

Disability Insurance: Employees who suffer an injury or become sick or pregnant outside of the workplace qualify for disability payments up to 50% of the employee's average weekly salary. Employers are required to purchase this insurance coverage and cannot deduct the cost of these payments from the employee's salary.

Unemployment Insurance: Employees who earn more than $500 in a quarter of a calendar year are covered by unemployment insurance if they lose their jobs. Employers must make quarterly unemployment insurance payments following a formula set by the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance. Employers cannot deduct the cost of these payments from the employee's salary.

No Retaliation: Employers are prohibited from retaliating against employees who assert their rights under state and federal law.
