

Do you or your business purchase and sell gasoline or other petroleum products?

Use this checklist to learn what our inspectors look for and help avoid violations. All businesses also must comply with the General Retail Inspection Checklist, which is included at the end for easy reference.

For your convenience, each Requirement includes the relevant section of law and/or rule, so you can refer to it for more information. The KEY below describes the legal citations and symbols used in this checklist.

| 51 | For each analog pump: | ☐ Yes |
| | The portion of the indicator's index associated with the graduations must be symmetrical to the graduations. | |
| | If the indicator and the graduations are in different planes, the indicator's index must extend to each graduation with which it is to be used. | |
| | If the indicator is in the same plane as the graduations, the distance between the indicator's index and the ends of the graduations measured along the line of the graduations must be not more than 1.0 mm (0.04 in). | |
| | If the indicator's index extends over the entire length of a graduation, it must be the same width throughout the portion that coincides with the graduation. | |
| | If the indicator and the graduations are in different places, the clearance between the indicator's index and the plane of the graduations must be 1.5 mm (0.06 in) or less. | |
| | Parallax effects must be reduced to the practical minimum. Parallax effects means the apparent displacement, or apparent difference in height or width, of a graduation or other object with respect to a fixed reference, as viewed from different points. | |
| | Tip: For analog pumps manufactured after January 1, 2002, the indicator's index must not be wider than the width of the narrowest graduation. | |
| | Tip: For any series of graduations, indications, or recorded representations, the values of the graduated intervals or increments must be the same width and height throughout the series. | |
| | Tip: The values of the graduated intervals representing money-values must be equal to or less than those in Table 1. Money-Value Divisions and Maximum Allowable Variations for Money-Value Computations on Mechanical Analog Computers of Handbook 44. | |
