Job Description

The New York City Department of Corrections (DOC) is one of the largest municipal jail systems in the United States. It provides for the care, custody, and control of persons accused of crimes or convicted and sentenced to one-year or less of jail time. The DOC operates 12 inmate facilities, nine of which are located on Rikers Island. In addition, the department operates two hospital prison wards (Bellevue and Elmhurst hospitals) and court holding facilities in Criminal, Supreme, and Family Court in each borough.

The DOC seeks to recruit a Marine Engineer to design develop, build, install, inspect and maintain the operation of the main propulsion equipment, such as boilers, auxiliaries, electrical equipment, steering engines, pumps and fuel tanks. The selected candidate will be responsible for the following;

- Maintenance, minor or emergency repair work and operation of the main propulsion equipment
- Ensuring that all standing orders and agency standard operating procedures are followed
- Conducting periodic rounds and inspections of machinery spaces
- Ensures that records of machinery operations and inspections are completed/maintained
- Supervises vessel fueling and directs the proper care, storage and use of fuel on board ship
- Ensures that records and log books, including the oil record book and engine logbook, are maintained
- Assist with preparation of proposals, cost estimates, presentations and reports
- Support project planning and execution efforts for research development, investigations, analyses, and testing
- Assist engineers in marine engineering tasks, and project management tasks for assigned projects
- Assist with special project as needed
