FY16NMOCJ7	MOCJ hopes to launch a media campaign that focuses on educating the public about the potential collateral consequences that immigrants face when interacting with the criminal justice system. The media campaign will fill this important gap by getting information into the hands of the public before coming into contact with the system. MOCJ's intention is to release an RFP for a consultant to advise the City on the best methods in which to convey this information to the public. Once the consultant has been selected, MOCJ intends to meet with the consultant and some of the local immigration services providers for their input on what information are most valuable to this population. Implementation of this media campaign plan will ensure that immigrants facing criminal charges receive a full range of services, from advice to direct representation.	7/1/2016	6/30/2019	Request for Proposal	3	NONE	0
