What is the Family
Planning
Benefit Program?

The Family Planning Benefit Program (FPBP) is a free, 100% confidential New York State health insurance program that exclusively provides sexual and reproductive health services to teens, women, and men who meet certain eligibility requirements. The program is available to you if you are uninsured, privately insured or covered by Child Health Plus and want to keep your sexual and reproductive health needs and services confidential. You can also apply for 3 months of retroactive coverage.

Note: You cannot get FPBP if you are covered by Medicaid because you can obtain confidential sexual and reproductive health services through Medicaid.

What are the benefits?

Free Services Covered by FPBP:

- ▶ All forms of birth control: (the pill, condoms, diaphragms, the patch, IUD (intrauterine device), Depo-Provera, NuvaRing and more) and help choosing the birth control method that fits your needs
- ▶ Emergency contraceptive services (Plan B) and follow-up
- ▶ Preventive screenings
- ▶ STI (sexually transmitted infections) and HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) counseling and testing
- ▶ Pregnancy counseling and testing

Services not covered by FPBP:

- ▶ Pregnancy and Pre-Natal services
- ▶ Abortions
- ▶ HPV (human papillomavirus) vaccinations
- ▶ Fertility Treatments
- ▶ Services not related to a family planning visit

Who is eligible?

You can obtain coverage through FPBP if:

- ▶ You are a teen, young adult, woman or man of any age
- ▶ You are a New York State resident
- ▶ You are a U.S. citizen or an immigrant with satisfactory status
- ▶ Your income is equal to or less than program income requirements*

If you are seeking to keep your services confidential, you can apply on your own

How do
I apply for FPBP?

Applying for FPBP requires you to complete a one page application and submit the following documents with your application:

Photo ID (bring one): such as School ID, driver's license, passport, or other official photo ID

Proof of age (bring one): such as Birth certificate, adoption or foster care records, official hospital or school records

Proof of citizenship (bring original of one document): such as Birth certificate, passport, naturalization certificate, "green" card

Proof of address (dated within the last 6 months - bring one): such as Photo ID with address, postmarked envelope, utility bill, magazine, or letter or lease agreement

Social Security Card, or be prepared to verbally provide number

Proof of income (bring all that apply): such as pay stubs; letter from employer stating income; unemployment, child support, alimony award letter or pay stubs; if no income, write a letter stating that you receive financial support from a family member

Documentation of any childcare expenses (bring only if this applies)

What is Presumptive Eligibility?

Presumptive Eligibility provides immediate coverage for individuals who appear to be eligible for FPBP prior to submitting a completed application. To get presumptive eligibility you must go to a Medicaid Family Planning provider. The staff will help you complete a screening form to help determine if you are eligible for FPBP.

What documents do you need to get Presumptive Eligibility?

No documentation is necessary.

You have to simply indicate the following information:

1. Your Identity
2. Your Age
3. Your Income
4. Your Residency
5. Your Household size and composition
6. Your Citizenship or satisfactory immigration status

What does Presumptive Eligibility mean for me?

Presumptive Eligibility means you will receive a Medicaid card and have full access to all FPBP covered services from the day of the screening until the date your application is processed and you are found eligible for FPBP. If you do not submit or complete an application, your presumptive eligibility coverage will end on the last day of the month following the month of screening. Your ability to get Presumptive Eligibility is limited.

Where do I go to apply for FPBP and get covered services?

You can apply for FPBP at select providers. To receive sexual and reproductive health services, visit any provider who accepts Medicaid. This includes pharmacies, primary care doctors, community and school-based health centers, family planning clinics and hospitals.

Health Insurance Options

The NY State of Health (NYSOH), NY State's Official Health Plan Marketplace is a new way for Individuals and Small Businesses to obtain health insurance. It offers Medicaid, Child Health Plus, Prenatal Care Services through Medicaid, Medicaid for the treatment of an emergency medical condition, and private health insurance. It is the only place where you can get help to lower the cost of private health insurance coverage. Please visit www.nystateofhealth.ny.gov to enroll or call 1-855-355-5777

What other options do I have to get medical care if I cannot obtain coverage through the NYSOH Marketplace?

There are a number of programs and resources available to you if you are not eligible for public health insurance, yet have limited resources. Some available health care resources are:

NYC Health and Hospitals Corporation (HHC)

HHC makes health care affordable for eligible New Yorkers through HHC Options, visit www.nyc.gov/hhc

Community Health Centers

Community Health Care Centers provide comprehensive medical care on a sliding fee scale. For more information, go to www.chcanys.org/

Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) Health Centers

DOHMH offers individuals and families low-cost health services including immunizations, sexually transmitted disease testing, tuberculosis services, and flu shots. For a listing of sites throughout the city, visit www.nyc.gov/health

School-based Health Centers (SBHCs)

Some NYC public schools have SBHCs that provide medical care for any child enrolled in that school at no cost to the child's family. Learn more at www.nyc.gov/schools
