

NYC RESIDENTS – MODAL SPLIT

FINDINGS

Except Staten Island, workers commuting to work rely on transportation other than cars

Subway/Railroad/Ferry is the largest mode among workers commuting outside of their borough of residence, except on Staten Island

Residents that live in Brooklyn and Manhattan do not use car, bus or subway as their main mode when commuting within their home boroughs, but rely heavily on subway when commuting outside of their home boroughs.

In Queens and Staten Island, the plurality of workers use cars for commuting within their borough of residence and to other boroughs.
