2012 REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE CITY OF ATLANTA ELECTED OFFICIALS COMPENSATION COMMISSION

INTRODUCTION

The Elected Officials Compensation Commission ("EOCC" "Commission") is charged with making recommendations concerning the salaries of the Mayor, the President of the City Council, the Members of the City Council, and the Members of the Atlanta Board of Education. The Board is required to make its recommendations at least one year prior to the regular municipal election.

The EOCC is made up of seven volunteer citizens from the City of Atlanta who have been appointed by each respective group of elected officials: 2 citizens are appointed by the City Council; 2 citizens are appointed by the Board of Education; 1 citizen is appointed by the President of the City Council; 1 citizen is appointed by the Mayor; and 1 citizen is appointed by the Atlanta Planning Advisory Board.¹ The members of the EOCC are:

Member	Home Neighborhood	Appointed By
Xavier O. Carter, Esq.	Buckhead	Mayor
Jamel DeCosta (Co-Chair)	Liberty Park	City Council
Wendy Green (Co-Chair)	Cascade Road Corridor	City Council
Mary Long	West End	Board of Education
Geri P. Thomas	East Lake	City Council President
Paul Zucca	Grant Park	Board of Education

The EOCC would like to thank the Schapiro Group for its excellent work and analysis in compiling data from various comparison cities to be considered by the EOCC. The EOCC would also like to thank Bernard Thomas of the City of Atlanta, City Council Staff and Rhonda Dauphin Johnson, City of Atlanta, Atlanta Municipal Clerk and Election Superintendent. Without their assistance and guidance, the work of the EOCC would have been much more difficult and likely could not have been completed on time.

¹ The appointment by the Atlanta Planning Advisory Board was not filled and remained vacant throughout this process.

THE PROCESS UNDERTAKEN BY THE EOCC

The report and recommendations that follow are the result of a process undertaken by the EOCC over the course of several months, beginning at its initial meeting on February 28, 2012. Since then the EOCC has met on a monthly basis to: identify and discuss the key issues to be considered in forming recommendations; identify and procure the services of a competent consulting firm to assist the Commission in carrying out its responsibilities; analyze the reports submitted by the procured consulting firm; meet with the public, members and/or representatives from the City Council, the President of Council, the Mayor, and the Board of Education; and to deliberate and vote on recommendations. As required by Section 2-703 of the City Charter, the Commission advertised and held a public hearing at 6:00 p.m. on July 30, 2012 in the City Council Chamber at which only one person appeared and gave comments.

Identification of Key Issues: Early in the process, the EOCC identified the issues it believed were key issues to be considered in making the required recommendations. The EOCC relied heavily on the excellent work done by previous installments of this Commission to identify said issues. The EOCC noted that salary raises had not been implemented for the Mayor since 2006, for the President of the Council and the City Council since 2006, and for the Members of the Board of Education since 2002. Pursuant to its statutory charge, it then sought ways to compare and analyze the current salaries of the identified elected officials to their counterparts performing similar roles and responsibilities in similarly-sized cities and municipalities throughout the country and/or cities of comparative national and international profile and importance. After deliberation and a unanimous vote, the EOCC opted to hire an outside consulting firm to help accumulate data that would help the EOCC to conduct said analysis.

Procurement and Use of Consulting Firm: After a Request for Proposal process, the EOCC elected to hire the Schapiro Group, Inc.—an Atlanta-based strategy and consulting firm—to compile select demographic and composition information for elected officials in cities of comparable size and government structures to the City of Atlanta, and with comparably sized school boards to the Atlanta Public School System whose school boards served similar roles, functions, and student populations. The Schapiro Group was hired by unanimous vote of the members present at its meeting on June 14, 2012, and it submitted its initial "Data Collection and Analysis of the Compensation of Elected Officials in the City of Atlanta and Other Jurisdictions" to the Commission on September 6, 2012. (See Exhibit A, attached.) After receiving that report and analyzing its results, the EOCC asked the Schapiro Group to provide similar data for five additional cities. The Schapiro Group graciously agreed, and submitted its final report to the Commission on October 15, 2012.

Meetings with Stakeholders: During the course of its deliberation process, the EOCC also met with stakeholders from the community and with the various elected officials whose positions the recommendations of the EOCC might affect. Those meetings were very informative and provided key information that factored into the Commission's ultimate recommendations.

Deliberations and Recommendations: Having gone through the process described above, the EOCC now makes the recommendations that follow in the next section. The decision-making process adopted by the Commission was majority vote of the quorum, but most (if not all) decisions were made by consensus of the group after deliberate consideration of the issues. Our recommendations for all positions took into account the cost of inflation since the last pay increases were implemented for the elected positions considered by this Commission.²

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR SALARY ACTIONS

Mayor: The EOCC considered a total of 12 cities with mayoral roles and responsibilities similar to those of the City of Atlanta (i.e., cities with a "strong mayor" form of government). Ultimately the EOCC selected the 9 cities it believed were most like the City of Atlanta in terms of population, city budget, mayoral roles and responsibilities, and/or in national and international prominence and profile. When compared to those 9 cities³, the Mayor's salary of $147,500 currently ranks seventh out of ten (i.e., only three cities pay their mayor less).

The EOCC believes the Mayor's salary should be increased to $184,300 for the four-year period beginning January 1, 2014 through December 31, 2018. This pay increase represents a cost of living increase from the current salary ($147,500 in 2006 to $169,300 in 2012), plus an increase of $15,000 to make the salary for the Mayor of Atlanta more competitive with the chief executive officer salaries of similarly situated cities, and to allow the City of Atlanta to continue to attract talented leaders for the City.

The EOCC makes this recommendation for multiple reasons. First—as previous iterations of this Commission have noted—this Commission believes that Atlanta is unique in its history and in its standing in the region and the nation. It has been a pioneer and leader in the Civil Rights Movement, it has hosted an Olympics, it is home to one of the busiest and most important airports in the world, and it has (almost since its very inception) been the premiere hub of economic activity in the Southeast. With that history, the City of Atlanta maintains a unique role in the regional, national, and international landscape that most cities of comparable size and population do not enjoy. The Mayor's activities and influence extend well beyond the city limits (population, 420,000+) into the entire metropolitan population (over 5,000,000 people). Atlanta's

² In so doing, the EOCC used the United States Department of Labor Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index Inflation Calculator.

³ The 9 comparison cities chosen for close EOCC scrutiny were: Washington, DC; Boston, Mass.; Seattle, Washington; Columbus, Ohio; Memphis, Tennessee; Denver, Colorado; Jacksonville, Florida; Nashville, Tennessee; and Portland, Oregon.

Mayor is seen as a strategic leader for growth management at the local, statewide, and regional levels, and (not infrequently) is called upon to play a similar role on the national and international scale.

Secondly, the Mayor is the Chief Executive Officer of the City. He or she is responsible and accountable for the quality of administrative performance and service delivery of the government to and for its citizens. The position of Mayor is a senior executive-level occupation—with responsibility for approximately 7500 employees, including numerous other senior executive-level personnel who are more highly compensated than the Mayor. While sensitive to the legitimate constraint that the position of Mayor is a position of service to the community, the EOCC believes the Mayor should be compensated commiserate with the senior executive-level responsibilities that come with the position.

Over the past several years, the City of Atlanta has been able to attract highlysuccessful and competent mayors that have helped raise the profile of the City in a positive manner and have placed the City in a strong position to continue to excel into the future, despite trying economic times. The EOCC believes that, in order to continue to attract highly-successful and competent candidates to the office of Mayor, it is imperative that the mayoral salary reflect executive level compensation.

Members of the City Council:

The EOCC found it difficult to draw adequate comparisons between the work done by members of the Atlanta City Council to that done by their counterparts in similarly-situated cities. With the help of the Schapiro Group, the EOCC attempted to draw the most apt comparisons possible with the limited resources at our disposal. The EOCC determined that, the Atlanta City Council's salary of $39,473 lags behind that of their counterparts in comparison cities. Average salaries in those cities are $50,720, or 28% higher than in Atlanta. However, that number only tells part of the story, as it does not reflect that some cities in that comparison have council-equivalent positions that are full-time positions. The average pay in comparison cities with part-time councilequivalent members was $29,390, or 26% less than what Atlanta City Council members receive.

The current City Charter does not identify Council Member status as either fulltime or part-time. There is currently no job description or listing of duties for Council Members, although it does indicate that the role of City Council Member is legislative in nature, with no reference to helping constituents obtain services from the City. Nonetheless, the EOCC interviewed more than half of the Members (9 total) and found that the majority of them have dedicated themselves to the position in a manner that can only be described as a full-time occupation, with many of them spending in excess of 60 hours per week on the job. Their activities include attending Council Meetings, attending Council Committee Meetings, attending neighborhood planning unit meetings, attending neighborhood improvement and planning task force meetings, constituent service, and a host of other activities on a weekly basis.

The EOCC recommends that the salary for Council Members be increased to $60,300. This pay increase represents a cost of living increase from the current salary ($39,473 in 2006 to $45,300 in 2012), plus an increase of $15,000 to better reflect the current level of commitment and service of the Members of the City Council, who are extremely dedicated to their constituents and their community. Doing so would make the salary of Council Members more comparable to their counterparts in other cities serving similar roles in the community.

President of the City Council: The President of the City Council is currently paid $41,000, slightly more than the salary afforded Members of the City Council. This Commission determined that the office requires few additional responsibilities that indicate the office of the President of the City Council should be paid significantly more than other Members.⁴ Accordingly, the EOCC recommends that the President of the City Council's salary be increased to $62,000. This pay increase represents the same cost of living increase afforded the other Members of the City Council (on a percentage basis), as well as the $15,000 pay increase recommended for the other Members of the City Council.

Members of the Atlanta Board of Education: The duties of the Atlanta Board of Education include: setting policy; approving annual budget; and providing for the levy of tax for education and setting the millage rate; hiring and evaluating the superintendent; and, under the leadership of the superintendent, adopting a vision for the district. The Board elects a Chair and a Vice Chair, each of which has some additional responsibility including serving as the principal liaison between the Board and the superintendent (Chair) and meeting on regular basis with the superintendent and the Chief of Staff (Chair and Vice Chair).

The EOCC was afforded the opportunity to speak with only two Board Members about their duties and whether they believe the current level of pay the Members receive is commiserate with their current workload and responsibilities. One member opined that the pay level is in fact in line with their work load and responsibilities. We agree with that member.

Membership on the Atlanta Board of Education is a part-time position, and our interviews indicate Board Members treat it as such. Nonetheless, we believe the Members of the Board of Education should also receive a cost of living adjustment based on the same CPI Inflation calculation methodology the other elected positions reviewed by this Commission received. The EOCC notes, however, that the last pay increase for the Atlanta Board of Education was implemented in 2002. Accordingly, our recommendation reflects a CPI Inflation adjustment since that time. We recommend pay increases as follows: (a) the President of the Board's salary should increase from $16,184 to $20,817; (b) the Vice President of the Board's salary should increase from $15,492 to $19,928; and (c) the other Board Members' salaries should increase from $14,800 to $19,037.

CONCLUSION

The members of the EOCC would like to thank those who appointed them for the opportunity to serve our community in this capacity. Each member took their responsibility to the community very seriously and we strived to ensure that we delivered a report and recommendations that represented what we believe will place the city in the best position to have highly competent elected officials who are dedicated to the continued growth and progress of the City of Atlanta.
