- Shape Up NYC is a free citywide fitness program run by NYC Parks, in partnership with NYC Service and Empire Blue Cross Blue Shield, that targets neighborhoods with high rates of obesity and obesity related diseases. Shape Up NYC is looking for new sites to host fitness classes in Brooklyn! Do you know of any community partners that may be willing to host a free weekly fitness class? Please put me in touch with them. The only requirements are: a) Class must be free and open to the public. b) Have a clean room that is ready to hold 20-25 people. c) Willingness to assist with light class promotion. d) A stereo, iPod/iPhone dock, or CD player to be used for 1 hour each week.

The nearest locations are 525 Johnson Avenue or 1755 Atlantic Avenue. Snow laborers will earn $15 per hour, and $22.50 per hour after 40 hours are worked in a week. Snow laborers must be: At least 18 years of age, eligible to work in the U.S., and capable of performing heavy physical labor. You can also visit www.nyc.gov/dsny for more information.
- Have you heard about Neighborhood Rat Reduction in Brooklyn? Neighborhood Rat Reduction program aims to remove rats from Bedford Stuyvesant, Bushwick and other targeted areas in the city by dramatically reducing food sources and places rats can live. Rats only need an ounce of food a day to survive, rarely travel more than a few blocks, and have an average lifespan of a year. This means that if food sources are dramatically reduced in a concentrated area, a burrow's population can decline significantly. The City has seen 90% reductions using methods in the past and the de Blasio administration is seeking to expand this success to large swaths of the city. Since rats thrive in open space and areas with heavy foot traffic, like parks and apartment complexes with lots of open space the City is tapping the Department of Parks, Sanitation and NYCHA to join the Department of Health in its anti-rat work.
- On Monday, December 18, 2017 Ms. Dent attended the Street Co-naming Ceremony to commemorate and honor A. Chineda Carter for all that she accomplished for Bushwick. Her cousin, Jerry Carter along with several other family members were able to attend and take part in the ceremony. Chairperson Julie Dent was joined by board members, Barbara Smith, Elvena Davis, Robert Camacho, Mary McClellan, Virgie Jones, Joshua Brown, as well as the District Manager, Celestina Leon. Ms. Dent thanked all those that attended for coming and paying tribute to a neighborhood hero. A special thanks went to Barbara Smith for her assistance in securing the Muster room at the 83rd Precinct, as well as, coordinating the light lunch of soup and salad that was provided by Celeste Leon and Julie Dent.

- Attended the Celebration and Farewell of Deputy Borough President Diana Reyna on Tuesday, December 19, 2017 at Brooklyn Borough Hall. It was a well-attended, beautiful event and everyone had a wonderful time. Many community leaders and elected officials were present including Brooklyn Borough President Eric L. Adams. Everyone bid the Deputy Borough President farewell and best wishes on her next endeavor. She is a lovely, caring person and she will make a mark no matter where she goes!!!
- Ms. Dent wished everyone a happy holidays and the very best in the New Year. She ended her report by saying, "See you all in 2018!"

District Manager's Report: 6:40PM

Greetings to all from the District Manager, Ms. Celestina Leon and her staff. She stated that she hope everyone is enjoying the holiday season so far. This is the time of the year that is customary to show appreciation to others and typically reflect on the year that is soon ending.

This month I have heard from current and former board members about someone that I did not personally have the opportunity to know, yet has certainly left a mark on Bushwick, all those she met, and has strengthened my own resolve through hearing about her experiences. She is Ms. A. Chineda Carter.

Chineda, as she preferred to be called, was a pioneer, a trailblazer, and a true community advocate. It was through her determination and ability to work with and within communities that Hope Gardens and the 83rd Precinct exist as we know them today.

Committee Reports, 6:52PM

Civic and Religious Committee (CRC) Committee Chairperson Ms. Elvena Davis

Meeting Held: Thursday, December 14, 2017, 3:00PM, 1420 Bushwick Avenue, Suite 370, Brooklyn, NY 11207

Members Present: Committee Chairperson Elvena Davis and Ernest Estimate, Co-chair (called in)

Others Present: District Manager, Celeste Leon, Captain Dwayne Barnes and Lieutenant Kendacy Barnes, the Salvation Army Bushwick Community Center

Items Discussed:

Captain Dwayne Barnes and Lt. Kendacy Barnes, The Salvation Army Corp Community Center, 1151 Bushwick Avenue – General Introduction/Meet and Greet. The Salvation Army is an integral part of the Christian Church, although distinctive in government and practice. The Army's doctrine follows the mainstream of Christian belief and its articles of faith emphasizes God's saving purposes. Its objects are 'the advancement of the Christian religion... of education, the relief of poverty, and other charitable objects beneficial to society or the community of mankind as a whole.'

Captain Barnes has worked with the Salvation Army Corp for the last nine to ten years. He has been in Bushwick for a little over a year.

Currently, they are focused on ringing the bells to raise funds for food baskets for families in need. They have also organized toy distributions with their supplies coming from outside of the borough. This year they gave away over 100 turkeys for Thanksgiving and provided over 300 families with food hampers.

The Salvation Army is also a Christian church with regular Sunday services and bible meetings during the week.

They also have creative programs for elementary and middle school students and a daycare program. They offer brass instrument theory and practicum and also have a steel band, dance, and piano program. This has all been led by a Creative Director, who also incorporates a STEM curriculum into the after-school programs. Their aim is to continue to enhance the programs, which are funded by the government and Salvation Army. All programs are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. There is open enrollment for the daycare. Four times a week they host a food pantry and want the community to know what programs/services are there for them.

Ms. Davis said that she was happy to hear that they have a steel band and she is encouraging them to participate in the upcoming Community Board 4 “Shape up Bushwick” parade in June 2018.

Questions were entertained:

Ernest asked if there is a digital strategy for this location. Captain Barnes answered that they have a Facebook page and ads online to volunteer.

The District Manager asked if there is space for community meetings. Captain Barnes responded that they recently attended the 83rd Precinct Council meeting and are working with the NCO program to coordinate future meetings at the center. They are available to host after the after-school programs end. Captain Barnes also offered to host the Civic and Religious Committee meeting.

Ernest commented that their moving, digital sign is beautiful. He added that they should ask themselves: what can we do outside of the four walls (the building)? He also offered to help create ideas and solutions, as he is allied to other community partners, especially as it relates to Elvena’s suggestion of a pipeline for young adults to volunteer.

The District Manager, Ms. Celestina Leon mentioned the NYC Service presentation during November’s meeting. They are looking for community groups interested in hosting volunteer workshops.

Captain Barnes shared that several months ago they lost their caseworker, who resigned. They are looking individuals with a teaching degree from CUNY/colleges in general.

Elvena added that they should let the community know what is going on and take advantage of the posting in regular newsletters from the Community Board and 83rd Precinct.

Captain Barnes mentioned that in his previous appointment in Poughkeepsie they had an Advisory Council. He would like to reestablish the council in the Bushwick center. They are looking for guidance, to implement new programs, and need suggestions for individuals to serve on the council.

Elvena suggested setting up a meeting that the community can attend. Tell them what they want/need, a synopsis of the vision, and make sure there are refreshments. She also added that she is very interested in their music, steel band, as every year the Civic and Religious Committee works to organize a parade, which is also known as Shape Up Bushwick. It is usually held the first Thursday in June and is in part a continuation of the Old Bushwick Sunday School Day celebrations (later known as Brooklyn Queens Day).

The parade is now geared towards health. Community groups, including, but not limited to daycares and schools, as well as, agencies have a banner and a table. There is potential for the brass quarter to perform. The event begins at 10am and ends at 3pm with setup at 9am in Irving Square Park. There is also a raffle with prizes for kids and activities, such as the NYPD rock climbing wall and the FDNY Safe House.

Captain Dwayne also shared that they utilize the radio station in his former position to help gather toy donations. They would like to work with and support more local business to collect toys for the toy drive.

Ms. Davis asked if anyone knows of businesses in the community that would like to help them with their toy drive to contact the Salvation Army through the District Manager.

2) Police Officer Lisa Prezzano, Crime Prevention, 83rd Precinct: General Safety and Crime Prevention Tips

- Safety starts at home. Use your deadbolt. The FDNY ferry gate is recommended on fire escapes.
- Scam alert: On the border of Queens, individuals are posing as utility company employees. They are asking to check pipes in order to burglarize the premises. Always ask for ID. If they do not seem legit call 911 right away.
- Tip: Encouraging direct deposit for checks. Thieves know the 1st is when seniors get their checks in the mail.
- Tip: When shopping bring minimal cash only and the credit/debit card that you're going to use. Keep your Social Security card and birth certificate at home.
- Scams over the phone: If someone call you do not give away any information. The Fraternal Order of Police scam, they don't ask for money over the phone. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or any government agency will always mail you if they need information. They do not resolve matters over the phone.

- Be aware of mailbox fishing. Mailbox fishing is the process in which thieves gain entry into the interior of mailboxes and steal mail containing checks. They do this by using shoe laces, glue traps, and juice bottles. About $25,000 has been stolen from the blue postal box on Knickerbocker and Myrtle Avenue.
- Use specific pens to prevent washing. Check washing is a process in which thieves use common household products to alter checks they recently stole out of mailboxes. They then make the checks payable to themselves or other parties. Use a pen with pigmented (Permanent) ink to write checks. The ink is not easy to alter.
- Make sure your check is going to the right place. Drop mail containing checks directly at the Post Office or hand it directly to your mail carrier.
- Crime Prevention offers crime surveys. They check locks, doors, lighting, keys, etc.
- Shred any voided or incorrectly written checks.
- Check your account balances frequently to ensure checks were cleared by the establishment that you wrote the check out to. Note that thieves usually re-write the check for the original amount you wrote, but simply change the payee's name.

Mary McClellan mentioned the VIN etching on cars and asked do they also do motorcycles. They use stickers to combat auto theft.

3) Jenise English and Ramon Brown, Volunteers of America - Bushwick Family Residence: The CCC program is a new injustice brought on by the major's office under Thrive NYC to have social workers in the family shelters. There is a prevailing rate and need for mental health services which are not being provided. The CCC department works with the families by partnering with the community, providers, and the staff within the shelter to provide them with resources, connect them with the community, provide the family with services, and preservation of the family unit.

There are more social workers in the shelters addressing mental health needs. They work with families to create a plan to address barriers and find resources to help them eventually move out of the shelter.

They join with other providers to find additional resources in the community. Some are chronically homeless. There are barriers to /for what they can do with idle time.

The program is fairly new. It will be one year this February in Bushwick.

The District Manager shared that sometime early next year the committee plans to host all shelter service providers during a meeting to help strengthen their connection to the community at large and hear more about their services/needs.

Announcements:

Barbara Smith shared that she is also the President of the 83rd Precinct Council, which usually meets the third Tuesday of the month. They are hosting a toy giveaway at the precinct located at 484 Knickerbocker Avenue on December 9, 2017 from 10am to 12pm.

Mary McClellan warned everyone about the flu and the importance of washing your hands. The flu shot is readily available in pharmacies and doctor's offices.

District Manager called for a motion to adjourn the meeting. Barbara Jackson made a motion to adjourn. The motion was seconded by Barbara Smith. All board members were in favor. Meeting Adjourned: 3:51pm

Lacey provided an overview of the Bushwick Community Plan (BCP), including the Steering Committee, Subcommittees, and the draft plan which should come together in 2018. She added that the zoning recommendations are not finalized and that a benefit of the process is that folks (Community Based Organizations and advocates) that are really active and deal with these issues on a regular basis have been assisting with the housing and land use subcommittees of the Bushwick Community Plan. Lacey deferred to Alex for the rest of the presentation.

Alex Fennell introduced herself and shared the principles and objectives of the Housing Subcommittee, which has already presented to the full Steering Committee.

(Obj. 3) Assembly Member Erik Dilan's Flip Flee legislation was mentioned. BCP Housing subcommittee members also added that Intro 1530 has since passed in the City Council.

Michael responded that there is an income maximum for homeowners for repair loans, as they are intended for low-income homeowners. There is a narrow band, which has been acknowledged as a problem. He added that the Mayor has released an update to the housing plan entitled Housing New York 2.0 (16 pages), which includes programs for homeowners.

Jo-Ena Bennet asked how do we learn from history and how not repeat it in regards to tenant harassment, including fire prevention and setting fire to buildings for insurance money. Martha responded that it is a good question to ask at the 83rd Precinct Council meeting.

(Obj. 4) Michael commented that the Certificate of No Harassment will likely apply to Bushwick via the Bushwick Community Plan. The owner has to prove that harassment has not taken place.

(Obj. 5) Michael shared that the city is working on an implementation response to Intro 385-A, which calls for an increase in housing code enforcement with a focus on indoor air quality.

Alex Fennell commented that there has been a lot of back and forth in the subcommittee about SROs (single room occupancy). They are not encouraging more SROs; only focusing on the preexisting units and protecting the tenants living in them. The goal of the recommended strategies is to acknowledge the condition and help with safety. Anne commented about the precedent with the Loft Law in regards to making illegal conversions safe.

(Obj. 6) Alex stated that we can always improve accessibility.

Desmonde Monroe asked how and who is reviewing prospective tenants and their rental history in the HPD lottery process. He added that people in the middle are left out. Alex commented that a lot of work is needed to improve current policies. Michael clarified that single individuals are not disfavored in the lottery process, as there are usually studio and 1 bedroom options however, 1 person household waiting lists are much longer, as there are more applicants than other apartment sizes. Michael added that income gaps came from the Bloomberg/Giuliani admin, as they created primarily 60% AMI units based on the Federal Income Guidelines. This is the first time various income bands are being implemented. There is still work to be done.

Desmonde asked about the appalling NYCHA conditions. Anne Guiney responded that the NYCHA (New York City Housing Authority) conversation/engagement has not happened fully through the BCP process.

Michael commented that part of Housing New York 2.0 is senior housing at NYCHA and the Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD), which entails a different process for resident engagement. He added that the recommendations don't currently speak to NYCHA quality of life and repairs.

It was shared that there is a pending lawsuit in regards to community preference in reference to the affordable housing lotteries.

Desmonde asked does it help with the ENY accessory dwelling. Michael responded that it's related to funding for the ADU program. Jo-Ena commented that there are basements that could be apartments with assistance for basement apartments. Martha responded there are building and zoning codes that complicate basement dwellings. Michael shared that State laws would have to be changed.

Jo-Ena asked is the city considering eminent domain. Michael responded no. Anne commented that eminent domain was talked about in reference to the OEM site, the Mademoiselle building.

Boris shared that when HPD issues violations owners are asked to respond depending on the class. If they don't respond a fine is issued via a lien. There is not an immediate impact.

Odolph shared that he attended a kickoff meeting, as well, for Council Member Reynoso's Participatory Budget process.

Jamie Wiseman asked for an outline. Lacey commented that there are four parts of their proposed ULURP Process Reform, including, but not limited to Strengthening Community Planning Efforts, Community Board Reform, Establishing an Office of Community Planning, Pre-ULURP process, Transparency data access, Environmental Review, Improving CEQR to better reflect conditions (secondary displacement, public health assessment).

The District Manager thanked the presenters for attending and sharing their recommendations. She added that she will follow up early next year in reference to presenting to the full board.

The District Manager shared an update regarding Rheingold, noting that Council Member Reynoso's office (Boris) and Bruno from the Rheingold Coalition are in contact with Johnathan Greenspun from Mercury, the liaison to the current developers, in reference to setting up a meeting with community representatives and stakeholders to provide updates on their project.

The District Manager also informed the committee members that Austen Martinez wasn't able to make it to the meeting however, he asked for the DM to share a recommendation on his behalf. He would like for the Committee to consider recommending the full board support writing a letter to Governor Andrew Cuomo and Attorney General Eric Schneiderman. The intent of the letter would be to open a formal investigation on the ongoing development and plans for the Rheingold Brewery site.

Recommendations

A presentation to the full board was recommended, as the Housing subcommittee is seeking support from the Board for the recommendations. Lacey will send the DM the presentation. Martha Brown, 1st Vice Chairperson, commented that the Executive Committee must hear the recommendations before approving a presentation during the full board meeting.

The Committee continues to address concerns about the Rheingold development via following up with local elected officials, as well as, Borough President Eric L. Adams and Deputy Borough President Diana Reyna. This includes, but it not limited to, updates on the current construction, local hiring, and the housing designated for seniors. The Committee will continue the conversation next month during the HLU Committee meeting.

The District Manager asked for a motion to adjourn the meeting. Robert Camacho made a motion and it was seconded by Desmonde Monroe. All were in favor. Meeting Adjourned: 7:45PM

There is an open space across the street from 55 Goodwin Place and the space has not been taken care of. We need to take care of it now, stated the PRC Chairperson, Mr. Robert Camacho.

Youth and Education Committee (YEC), Committee Chairperson Ms. Virgie Jones

Meeting Held: Tuesday, December 12, 2017, 3:00PM, 1420 Bushwick Avenue, Suite 370, Brooklyn, NY 11207

Members Present: Virgie Jones and Sharline Moore

Others Present: District Manager, Celestina Leon, Sharon Fludd, CB 4 Community Associate; Fromit Birnbaum, LIFE; Becky Simkhai and Tasha Mackcraig, Bushwick Montessori School; Ramon Pebenito, Democratic Socialists of America; Stacie Johnson, Marisa Browne and Gloria Teller-Tovar, CEC D32.

Items Discussed:

- 1) Michele Martinez Gugerli, Community Affairs Program Associate, NYC Department of Education: Presentation on Community Affairs and its relationship to Community Boards.

Michele Martinez is part of the External Affairs Division of the Department of Education. Her department deals with PA, PTA and CEC (Community Education Council). They are not FACE but work closely with FACE. Family and Community Engagement (FACE) deals with parent leadership. Together with a couple of other teams they make up external engagement.

-Her team is small and she sees her team fulfilling public policy without the public.

A part of what her team does is work with community groups that care about the schools and the kids that go to the schools. They reach out to advocacy groups such as AQE (Alliance for Quality Education) who they work with on a regular basis.

-The goal is to have an avenue for community members and experts in the community to reach them at the Department of Education and give them feedback, ask questions, provide accountability, and in return they want to have a relationship where if they have a problem in the community they can reach out and ask the Community Board to help them spread the word. The Community Board can also help them find out what people think about certain issues.

-DOE's goal is to provide a feedback of info to build a relationship with the community board knowing that they are the expert within the community.

Community boards sometimes do not line up with school districts. This at times has made it difficult to know what community board can reach out to the school's superintendent's office.

Question: Sharline Moore: You mentioned AQE?

Answer: The Alliance for Quality Education is a coalition mobilizing communities across the state to keep New York true to its promise of ensuring a high quality public education to all students regardless of zip code. Combining its legislative and policy expertise with grassroots organizing, AQE advances proven-to-work strategies that lead to student success and ultimately create a powerful public demand for a high quality education. They are one of the city's top ten educational advocates.

The District Manager asked for an example of a project that Michele recently worked on?

Answer: Recently the Senior Advisor for Commutations and External Affairs, Ms. Maite Junco visited Chancellor Farina with a bunch of advocates. We sat them in a room with parents and we had the parents give her feedback on translation interpretation services because we recently expanded those resources. The parents that were in the room did not speak English. They were in the room with 6 different organizations in 5 different languages.

The Department of Education is taking steps to further increase awareness of services and piloting new strategies to reach more families, including text messaging and robocall service applications. In November, a multilingual "NYC Public Schools Speak Your Language" campaign was launched and it appears in the subway to raise awareness of services available and encourage families to share feedback.

Last school year, the DOE also hosted Family Engagement Conferences for families in Spanish, Mandarin, Arabic, and Bengali to provide parents with information about programs and resources in their native language.

With families in New York City schools speaking over 180 languages, this administration has made significant investments in the expansion of written and over-the-phone interpretation services and on-site interpreters at events to ensure families with limited English proficiency have access to critical information about school programs.

Ms. Michele Martinez Gugerli's team also partially responsible for preparing the DOE side of information request from the Mayor's team for his town hall meetings with each councilmember.

District Manager: School Funding?

Answer: Funding is brought in to address whatever concerns there may be.

For example, if the student is an English language learner then additional funding is brought into the school. If the student is in special education then that can bring additional funding into the school.

The philosophy behind fair student funding is that every school has the funding that fit with their student body. There is also federal funding and school allocation funding, etc. There is funding for art programs and music programs, etc.

Ms. Martinez Gugerli mentioned that if there are programs that the community board would like to see, they should let them know. Lower funded schools take priority.

The reality is that they are still waiting for money from the state. They do not know what is going to happen with their federal monies, that is still a huge question mark. It has not been touched as of now, but they do not know what the future look like. They are concentrating on schools that need it the most.

Principles of schools are equipped to use their budget, it is at their own discretion.

Question: Gloria Teller-Tovar – How do you check how much funding schools are using?

Answer: Funding is available online. If you see that the school's funding is not being used you can contact Michele Martinez and she will find out for you. The superintendent is also a person to address questions to about the school that you have questions about.

- 2) Becky Simkhai, Head of "School at Bushwick Montessori", The Julie Dent Learning Center:
- Bushwick Montessori School is a new, located at 803 Knickerbocker Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11207
 - The school serves families with children ages 2-5 years.
 - They have 4 classes, with the primary classes covering ages 3, 4 and 5 years of age.
 - Full day care runs from 8am to 6pm.
 - Children enjoy organic, vegetarian lunches.
 - Program utilizes the traditional Montessori curriculum, a scientifically based method that has been practiced all across the world for more than 100 years.
 - Program is dual language (English and Spanish)
 - Specials include Yoga and Mindfulness, Music and Mandarin

The Montessori Method of Education, developed by Dr. Maria Montessori, is a child-centered educational approach based on scientific observations of children for birth to adulthood. Dr. Montessori's Method has been time tested, with over 100 years of success in diverse cultures throughout the world. It is a view of the child as one who is naturally eager for knowledge and capable of initiating learning in a supportive, thoughtfully prepared learning environment. It is an approach that values the human spirit and the development of the whole child, physical, social, emotional, cognitive.

The teacher, child and environment create a learning triangle. The classroom is prepared by the teacher to encourage independence, freedom within limits and a sense of order. Children are taught to learn how to wash their hands and to put on their clothing.

The child, through individual choice, make use of what the environment offers to develop himself, interacting with the teacher when support and or guidance is needed.

Younger children learn from older children and older children learn from younger children teaching them to have compassion for others. This arrangement also mirrors the real world, where individuals work and socialize with people of all ages and dispositions.

Children experience sensitive periods, or windows of opportunity, as they grow. Montessori teachers match appropriate lesson and material to these sensitive periods when learning is most naturally absorbed and internalized.

In early childhood, Montessori students learn through sensory-motor activities, working with materials that develop their cognitive powers through direct experiences: seeing, hearing, tasting, smelling, touching and movement.

This prepares the child for the world of adolescence, when thought and emotion evolve into understanding more abstract, universal concepts such as equity, freedom and justice.

Montessori students learn to think critically, work collaboratively and act boldly, a skill set for the 21st century. Montessori students work with specially designed learning materials, manipulating and investigating until they master the lesson inside. A Montessori teacher can often be hard to spot in the classroom. She may be sitting with a preschooler next to her on a floor mat, arranging colored rectangles from darkest to lightest, or intently observing as a handful of elementary students dissect a leaf.

Question: Gloria Teller-Tovar – how much is tuition?

Answer: It depends on whether it is a half-day or a full day. They did not bring the tuition schedule breakdown.

LIFE (Fromit) added that there is a sliding scale and no one is paying full tuition at this point; scholarships are considered. CB4 Chairperson, Julie Dent, elaborated that full tuition is $21,000 per year however no one is paying full tuition. The family has to show proof of income for them to determine eligibility for financial assistance. Bushwick Montessori is the only Montessori school that accepts vouchers.

Question: Who determines eligibility?

Answer: LIFE, they use a third party to determine eligibility for financial aid.

Questions:

Can children with disabilities attend the school?

Answer: Yes, it depends on the circumstances of each child after they are evaluated.

Question: Stacie Johnson – Where do they see the students going afterwards? It ends at age 5. Are they considering expansion?

Answer: Becky Simkhai – They are hoping to keep more 5 year olds and would want to grow to elementary. 5 year olds currently attend “Pre-K for All” programs.

Question: Gloria Teller-Tovar – Some parents receive public assistance. Do they accept vouchers?

Answer: LIFE (Fromit) – Yes, they want to help families. The goal is to include everyone and offer this opportunity.

Stacie Johnson asked a follow up question, do those include ACS vouchers? Chairperson Julie Dent responded ACS and HRA. Stacie Johnson commented that some vouchers cap out. Do they pay the rest?

Gloria Teller-Tovar responded that ACS will cover the cost, if the parent is working. They have eligibility criteria.

Question: Sharline Moore – How many students?

Answer: LIFE – 65 Students

Sharline asked a follow up question. Has the DOE improved since it changed from the BOE?

Answer: Virgie Jones, YEC Chairperson – Yes, there are more resources. They are trying to connect families to more resources. SLT teams, different schools performance, some funds. Parents have a lot to do with it. The main thing is to get the parents involved in PTA meetings. Some schools have both AM/PM meetings. Overall it is headed in a better direction.

Michele from the DOE added that they have a more traditional structure and accountability. The Chancellor is over Deputy Chancellors, who are over the Superintendents.

The school is located a 803 Knickerbocker Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11207
