Re: Semi-annual report of donations to, and fundraising efforts by, the New York City Department of Environmental Protection for the period April 1, 2015 through September 30, 2015

Dear Ms. Gonzalez:

I am writing in compliance with the New York City Conflict of Interest Board’s Advisory Opinions 2003-4 and 2008-6, which require this agency to disclose (a) donations received by the agency or affiliated not-for-profit entities (“NFPs”) that exceed $5,000 in aggregate value from a single donor and (b) affiliated and unaffiliated NFPs for which the agency sought private contributions.

Please be advised that the New York City Department of Environmental Protection (“DEP”) received reportable donations for this reporting period as follows:

- New York Water Environment Association donated travel expenses with a cumulative value of $15,337.36 for DEP personnel to attend the Water Environment Federation Technical & Exhibition Conference “Operations Challenge” competitions in June 2015 and September 2015. Please see the attached documents for further details. The cumulative total value of donations received from this entity from October 1, 2013 through September 30, 2015 is $31,276.03.

- Water Research Foundation donated travel expenses with a cumulative value of $7,209.63 for DEP personnel to attend various conferences and meetings. Please see the attached documents for further details. The cumulative total value of donations received from this entity from October 1, 2013 through September 30, 2015 is $12,178.71.
During this reporting period, DEP engaged in fundraising activities on behalf of the following unaffiliated NFPs¹ based on determinations by the DEP Commissioner that the work of these NFPs supports DEP’s mission:

- Natural Resources Defense Council
- The Trust for Public Land

Please be further advised that DEP receives requests from producers for film shoots on DEP-managed property. DEP does not charge location fees, but informs the producers that they may make donations to the Mayor’s Fund to Advance New York City (“Fund”), which is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization (“NFP”). DEP may use money from the Fund for certain expenditures.

If any additional information is required, please do not hesitate to contact me at (718) 595-6533.

Very truly yours,

Lisa Sofia

Cc: Emily Lloyd, Commissioner

¹ DEP does not have any affiliated NFPs.

Community Health Center of Richmond

Staten Island, NY 10302

Dear Mr. Thompson:

The Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence (OCDV) is pleased to offer OCDV’s support to your organization’s grant application for the Health Infrastructure Investment Program funding opportunity through the DHHS/Bureau of Primary Health Care.

OCDV formulates policies and programs, monitors the citywide delivery of domestic violence services, and works with diverse communities to increase awareness of domestic violence victims and their children to get the help that they need regardless of the language they speak or their immigration status.

The Community Health Center of Richmond (CHCR) is a partner of OCDV’s Domestic Violence Response Team (DVRT), a program aimed at providing comprehensive services to high-risk victims of domestic violence in Staten Island. CHCR refers victims to the DVRT program for coordinated services and CHCR is a valuable partner helping DVRT clients in crisis obtain needed medical services.

We recognize the need for additional primary care in the North Shore of Staten Island and strongly support your application. We look forward to assisting your project in any way that we can.

To Whom It May Concern:

The Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence (OCDV) is pleased to offer OCDV’s support to the Dominican Women’s Development Center (DWDC)’s application for the STOP Violence Against Women Formula Grant through the U.S. Department of Justice.

DWDC’s programs and services provide a holistic approach to the needs of women by providing them with access to basic education, employment training, jobs, health promotion activities, and opportunities for community involvement. At the NYC Family Justice Centers, OCDV works closely with DWDC’s comprehensive Anti-Domestic Violence Program to assist predominantly monolingual, Spanish-speaking victims of domestic violence through crisis intervention, counseling, support groups, court accompaniment, community education workshops, and advocacy.

Due to DWDC’s long track record of providing invaluable services to victims of domestic violence in NYC, especially in the Latina community, we fully support their application for additional funding. We look forward to assisting the project in any way that we can.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Lee:

Please accept this letter as indication of my strong support for the Institute for Advanced Medicine’s grant application to the Office on Women’s Health of the Department of Health and Human Services for funding to improve screening and treatment for women who experience intimate partner violence (IPV) under the IPV Provider Network: Engaging The Health Care Provider Response to Interpersonal Violence Against Women grant program.

OCDV, established in 2001, oversees the citywide delivery of domestic violence services, develops policies and programs, and works with diverse communities to increase awareness of domestic violence. OCDV aims to make it easier for domestic violence victims and their children to get the help that they need regardless of the language they speak or their immigration status, gender identify or sexual orientation. Among its key initiatives, OCDV operates four Family Justice Centers in New York City that provide comprehensive civil legal, counseling, and supportive services for victims of domestic violence, elder abuse, and sex trafficking, including the Manhattan Family Justice Center (MFJC).

The Institute for Advanced Medicine (IAM), a program at Mount Sinai Hospital, has six locations across Manhattan that provide a full range of inpatient and outpatient comprehensive care for people living with HIV or other chronic diseases. Of the over 3,000 women served by the IAM, an untold number struggle with IPV. The implementation of universal screening and tailored support from the Mount Sinai Crime Victim’s Treatment Center (CVTC), an onsite partner agency at the MFJC, will ensure increased referrals to the MFJC and access to other IPV services.

I share IAM’s commitment to strengthening the safety net for victims of domestic violence and recognize the need to improve screening and treatment for IAM patients experiencing IPV. Thank you in advance for your consideration of the Institute for Advanced Medicine’s request.

Dear Mr. Teel:

Please accept this letter as indication of my strong support for Public Health Solutions’ application to the Office on Women’s Health to implement an IPV Provider Network (CFDA Number 93.088) at a number of targeted healthcare provider sites throughout New York City. The overarching goal of the proposed project is to test models that leverage and make sustainable existing linkages between healthcare providers, public health programs, and IPV providers using robust methodologies to test interventions and evaluate programs.

The Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence (OCDV), established in 2001, oversees the citywide delivery of domestic violence services, develops policies and programs, and works with diverse communities to increase awareness of domestic violence. OCDV aims to make it easier for domestic violence victims and their children to get the help that they need regardless of the language they speak or their immigration status, gender identity or sexual orientation. Among its key initiatives, OCDV operates four Family Justice Centers in New York City that provide comprehensive civil legal, counseling, and supportive services for victims of domestic violence, elder abuse, and sex trafficking.

Public Health Solutions (PHS) implements innovative, cost effective and population-based public and community health programs, conducts research that provides insight on public health issues, and provide services to other not-for-profit organizations to address public health challenges. PHS’ Maternal Infant Community Health Collaborative program in North West Queens aims to support women’s health and wellness throughout their reproductive lifespan including increasing access to family planning services, prenatal care, and connections to affordable health insurance among other supportive services.
OCDV staff at the New York City Family Justice Center, Queens (QFJC) have been providing staff trainings to the Maternal Infant Community Health Collaborative (MICHC) and MICHC has been referring victims of domestic violence to services at the QFJC. OCDV and MICHC will continue to collaborate in this respect through the proposed project for this grant application.

I understand the importance of working closely with healthcare providers, public health entities and a range of other social service organizations that touch the lives of IPV survivors and those who are at risk for this type of violence and share the commitment to integrate IPV assessment and intervention into basic care, as well as to encourage collaborations between healthcare providers and IPV programs like our own. Thank you in advance for your consideration of Public Health Solution’s request.

To Whom It May Concern:

Please accept this letter as indication of my strong support for The Fortune Society's application for funding under the US ACF New Pathways for Fathers and Families grant application. The Fortune Society's proposed New Pathways program will provide coordinated responsible parenting, economic stability, and healthy marriage/relationship offerings to formerly-incarcerated New Yorkers who are the fathers or father-figures to minor children. The Fortune Society is a 48-year-old reentry services organization serving some of the highest-risk, highest-need formerly-incarcerated individuals in the country and has over four decades experience providing family services to this population, and over three decades experience providing the population workforce development programming.

The Mayor's Office to Combat Domestic Violence (OCDV), established in 2001, oversees the citywide delivery of domestic violence services, develops policies and programs, and works with diverse communities to increase awareness of domestic violence. OCDV aims to make it easier for domestic violence victims and their children to get the help that they need regardless of the language they speak or their immigration status, gender identity or sexual orientation. Among its key initiatives, OCDV operates four Family Justice Centers in New York City that provide comprehensive civil legal, counseling, and supportive services for victims of domestic violence, elder abuse, and sex trafficking.

The Fortune Society has partnered with OCDV by attending on-site trainings at the NYC Family Justice Center, Queens, receiving Domestic Violence 101 training for Fortune Society agency staff, and referring clients, as appropriate, for services at the New York City Family Justice Center, Queens. OCDV and the Fortune Society would continue to collaborate in this respect through the proposed project for this grant application.
I understand the importance of providing coordinated services to formerly-incarcerated New Yorkers who are the fathers or father-figures to minor children and share the commitment to training staff working in these programs around issues related to domestic violence. Thank you in advance for your consideration of The Fortune Society’s request.

Bed-Stuy Domestic Violence Prevention Program

Memorandum of Understanding

By and Between

Fund for the City of New York/Center for Court Innovation

The New York City Mayor's Office to Combat Domestic Violence

This Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) is entered into on April 30, 2015, by and between the Fund for the City of New York/Center for Court Innovation (the Center) and the New York City Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence (OCDV).

Purpose

The purpose of this MOU is to describe the relationship between and obligations of both the Center for Court Innovation and the New York City Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence as per the Center’s Bed-Stuy Domestic Violence Prevention Program application under the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance’s (BJA) Byrne Criminal Justice Innovation Program Fiscal Year 2015 Competitive Grant Announcement (OMB No. 1121-0329). Under this solicitation, eligible entities may receive funds from BJA under the Grant Program to be utilized for the planning and implementation of a strategic, collaborative, and community-oriented plan to reduce crime in a targeted neighborhood.

Partners

Since 1993, the Center for Court Innovation has developed problem-solving justice initiatives that attempt to harness the power of the justice system to address local problems. These programs can take many forms, but all focus on creating lasting community partnerships. They strive to create new relationships, both within the justice system and with outside stakeholders such as residents, merchants, churches and schools. And they test new and aggressive approaches to public safety rather than merely responding to crime after it has occurred. In recent years, the Center has implemented a variety of programs to reduce gun violence. For example, the Center has implemented replications of the Cure Violence model in Brooklyn (S.O.S. Crown Heights and S.O.S. Bed-Stuy) as well as Tracy Meares’ Offender Call-In model in Brownsville. The Center also has nine years of experience providing technical assistance and training on developing and enhancing specialized court and criminal/civil justice responses to domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking. The Center’s provision of technical assistance is grounded in practice, not theory—the Center’s team of planners and implementers have successfully designed domestic violence courts in New York State and its technical assistance efforts grow directly out of this experience.

The New York City Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence was established in 2001. OCDV oversees the citywide delivery of domestic violence services, develops policies and programs, and works with diverse communities to increase awareness of domestic violence. OCDV works alongside City agencies, community-based and advocacy organizations, local leaders, and service providers to expand access to services citywide for victims and their children to receive the help that they need. OCDV’s programs include:
New York City Family Justice Centers
The New York City Family Justice Centers (FJC) provide comprehensive multi-agency services for victims of domestic violence, elder abuse, and sex trafficking. Located in the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Manhattan, the Centers are co-located with the local District Attorney’s Office and have NYPD Domestic Violence Prevention Officers (DVPOs) and staff from more than 35 community partners on-site to offer counseling services for adults and children, civil legal assistance, immigration assistance, economic empowerment and supportive services.

Domestic Violence Response Team (DVRT)
Staten Island DVRT seeks to reduce the incidence of homicide by providing rapid response to high-risk cases of intimate partner violence. DVRT facilitates interagency coordination and collaboration and creates individualized action plans to quickly and effectively meet the service and safety needs of clients. The NYCHA DVRT operates in 15 identified New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) public housing developments throughout the City. In addition to providing services to high risk clients, NYCHA DVRT also conducts a robust outreach and public education campaign to raise awareness about healthy relationships and link residents directly to services at the FJC.

NYC Healthy Relationship Training Academy
The NYC Healthy Relationship Training Academy offers interactive workshops on dating violence and cyber abuse for adolescents, young adults, parents and service providers.

Coordinated Approach to Preventing Stalking (CAPS)
CAPS is a homicide prevention initiative that seeks to increase the identification and reporting of intimate partner stalking cases, enhance stalking arrests and prosecutions, and link victims directly to appropriate services through the DVRT. Currently, the CAPS program is operated in Staten Island in collaboration with the NYPD and the Richmond County District Attorney’s Office.

New York City Fatality Review Committee (FRC)
The FRC examines data pertaining to family-related fatalities and develops recommendations for the coordination and improvement of services for victims in New York City. To raise awareness of the prevalence of domestic violence and of services available, FRC members also participate in community outreach in neighborhoods with a high number of domestic violence homicides.

Background and Need
If the Center receives an award under the Byrne Criminal Justice Innovation Program’s Fiscal Year 2015 (OMB No. 1121-0329), the Center for Court Innovation and OCDV agree to work together on a planning process aimed at reducing the incidence of domestic violence in the Bedford-Stuyvesant neighborhood of Brooklyn. The proposed planning Initiative would be focused on a small area around New York City Housing Authority’s Tompkins Houses in the 79th Police Precinct. As part of the proposed initiative, the Center and its partners would: 1) fully assess the focus area’s needs, the drivers of domestic violence in the area, and available community resources; 2) develop a strategic plan aimed at spurring norm change around violence and masculinity in the focus area; and 3) plan and complete an early action project designed to build support for the initiative among the focus area’s residents.

Duties and Responsibilities of the Center for Court Innovation

1) The Center will act as “fiscal agent” and “applicant” (each as defined and described in the Solicitation) in connection with the submission of the Application

2) In the event that the BJA awards Grant Funds pursuant to the Application, the Center shall:
   a. Act as “fiscal agent” in accordance with the requirements of DOJ Grant Terms.
   b. Select a program coordinator to oversee the planning process and the convening of the proposed cross-sector partnership;
   c. Convene a cross sector partnership of city agencies (e.g., NYCHA, The Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence,) and local stakeholders to guide the planning process;
   d. Convene a program advisory group of community residents to and ensure community buy-in;
   e. Conduct community outreach (e.g., surveys, focus groups) to further introduce the proposed initiative to community residents and stakeholders; and

Duties and Responsibilities of the New York City Mayor’s Office to Combat Domestic Violence

In the event that the BJA awards Grant Funds pursuant to the Application, OCDV shall:
   a. Designate an agency point-person to attend cross-sector meetings; and
   b. Provide assistance with gathering data on domestic violence and other violent crime in the program’s proposed focus area.

The Parties acknowledge and agree the Center shall direct and have the final approval over all aspects of the Bed-Stuy Domestic Violence Prevention Program (in the event the Center is awarded the Grant Funds), subject to the requirements of this MOU and any applicable DOJ Grant Terms. Notwithstanding the foregoing, OCDV shall not be required to undertake, perform, or assume, any obligations, duties, or responsibilities that are not specifically set forth in this MOU other than as may be mutually agreed to by the Parties.

Terms of Understanding

The term of this MOU will begin on October 1, 2015 and run until September 30, 2018, unless otherwise terminated on written notice from either party.

This agreement is subject to all laws concerning clients’ rights and confidentiality, and the policies and procedures of the agencies involved.

Modification and Termination of MOU

Modifications of this MOU shall be made only by mutual consent. The modifications shall be made in the form of an amended written memorandum of understanding.

Dear Mr. Briffaul:

Pursuant to the financial disclosure requirements set forth in Advisory Opinion 2003-4 and 2008-6, the New York City Department of Sanitation has researched the records of all donations to the agency and agency affiliated not-for-profit entities. For the six-month period ending September 30, 2015, the agency and agency affiliated not-for-profit entities did not receive any donations of $5,000 or more. Therefore, the Department is not submitting a financial disclosure form. Additionally, the Department did not solicit support for any unaffiliated not-for-profit entities.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you need any further information regarding this matter.

Sincerely yours,
