Follow all instructions on the Special Circumstances Guide that pertain to you when you complete your "Application for Examination."

ELIGIBILITY TO TAKE EXAMINATION: This examination is open to each employee of the New York City Police Department who on the date of the multiple-choice test:

- (1) is employed in the non-competitive title of Police Cadet; or
- (2) holds a permanent (not provisional) competitive appointment in or appears on a Preferred List (see Note below) for the title of Traffic Enforcement Agent, Associate Traffic Enforcement Agent, School Safety Agent, Supervisor of School Security or Police Communications Technician; and
- (3) is not otherwise ineligible.

(Note: A "Preferred List" is a civil service list which is only for certain former permanent incumbents of the eligible title who have rehiring rights.)

For the purposes of this examination only, admission is extended to employees in related or collateral lines of promotion. The titles to which admission is extended are: Traffic Enforcement Agent, Associate Traffic Enforcement Agent, School Safety Agent, Supervisor of School Security, and Police Communications Technician.

You will be given the test before we verify your eligibility. You are responsible for determining whether or not you meet the eligibility requirements for this examination prior to submitting your application. If you are marked "Not Eligible," your application fee will not be refunded.

If you do not know if you are eligible, check with your agency's personnel office.

ELIGIBILITY TO BE PROMOTED:

From the non-competitive title of Police Cadet: At the time of promotion, you must be employed in the title of Police Cadet and you must have satisfactorily completed the Police Cadet Program.

From the competitive titles of School Safety Agent, Supervisor of School Security, Traffic Enforcement Agent, Associate Traffic Enforcement Agent or Police Communications Technician: At the time of promotion, you must have completed your probationary period in an eligible title, and you must be permanently (not provisionally) employed in one of these titles (or your name must appear on a Preferred List for one of these titles). In addition, you must have been permanently employed in one of these titles for at least one year (unless your probationary period in that eligible title has been waived pursuant to Rule 5.2.4 of the Personnel Rules and Regulations of the City of New York). Time served prior to a break in service of more than one year will not be credited toward meeting these requirements. Employees who have passed probation in any eligible title, but who, at the time of promotion, are serving in another eligible title as specified above, but who have not passed probation for that title, are nevertheless eligible for promotion.

HOW TO QUALIFY:

Education and Experience Requirement: At the time of promotion:

- (1) Police Cadets must have graduated with a Baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university.
- (2) Candidates in all other eligible titles must have either
 - (a) successfully completed 60 college semester credits at an accredited college or university with at least a 2.0 cumulative index or its equivalent, or
 - (b) a four-year high school diploma or its educational equivalent and have completed two years of honorable full-time U.S. military service.

High School education must be approved by a State's Department of Education or a recognized accrediting organization. College education must be from an accredited college or university, accredited by regional, national, professional or specialized agencies recognized as accrediting bodies by the U.S. Secretary of Education, and by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

If you were educated outside the United States, you must have your foreign education evaluated at your own expense to determine its equivalence to education obtained in the United States. You will receive instructions from the Police Department during the pre-employment screening process regarding the approved evaluation services that you may use for foreign education.

Age Requirements: You must be at least 17½ years of age by the date you take the multiple-choice examination to be permitted to take this examination. You must have attained age 21 to be promoted to Police Officer. If you are too young for promotion on the date the eligible list is terminated, you will have no further opportunity for promotion from the list. Only persons who are less than 35 years of age on the date of application for this examination may be promoted to Police Officer. Thus, if you take the test at a DCAS Computer-based Testing & Applications Center on Saturday, August 10, 2019, you must not have reached your 35th birthday by August 10, 2019 to be promoted to Police Officer. If you take the test at a DCAS Computer-based Testing & Applications Center on Saturday, February 8, 2020, you must not have reached your 35th birthday by February 8, 2020 to be promoted to Police Officer.

Exception to Age Requirements: If you were engaged in military duty as defined in Section 243 of the New York Military Law, you may deduct from your actual age the length of time spent in such military duty, provided the total deduction for military duty does not exceed six years.

Citizenship Requirement: United States citizenship is required at the time of promotion to Police Officer.

Character and Background: Proof of good character and satisfactory background will be absolute prerequisites to promotion. The following are among the factors which would ordinarily be cause for disqualification: (a) arrest record or conviction of an offense, the nature of which indicates lack of good moral character or disposition towards violence or disorder; (b) repeated arrests or convictions of an offense, where such convictions indicate a disrespect for the law; (c) discharge from employment, where such discharge indicates poor behavior or an inability to adjust to discipline; and (d) conviction of petty larceny. Additionally, persons convicted of a felony, domestic violence misdemeanor, or who have been dishonorably discharged from the Armed Forces are not eligible for promotion to the title of Police Officer.

Medical and Psychological Assessment: Medical and psychological guidelines have been established for the position of Police Officer. You will be examined to determine whether you can perform the essential functions of the position of Police Officer. Additionally, you will be expected to continue to perform the essential functions of a Police Officer throughout your career, and may, therefore, be medically and psychologically tested periodically throughout your career. Where appropriate, a reasonable accommodation will be provided for a person with a disability to enable him or her to take these medical and psychological examinations, and/or to perform the essential functions of the job.

Physical Testing: Physical standards have been established for the position of Police Officer. You will be required to pass a qualifying physical test and may be required to undergo periodic physical testing throughout your career.

Drug Testing: You must pass a drug screening prior to promotion as part of a pre-promotion screening process, and you will be subject to drug testing during Police Academy Training and as part of the medical examination at the end of probation. You may again be drug tested on a random basis after your probationary period is completed or as a prerequisite for assignment or promotion. Any member of the NYC Police Department found in possession of or using illegal drugs, or who fails, refuses, or attempts to evade a drug test, will be terminated. The NYC Police Department has a strict zero tolerance policy concerning illegal drug use.

License Requirement: On the date of promotion as a Police Officer, you must possess a motor vehicle driver license valid in the State of New York. If you have moving violations, license suspension(s) or an accident record, you may be disqualified. This license must be maintained for the duration of your employment.

Residency: The New York State Public Officers Law requires that any person employed as a Police Officer in the New York City Police Department must be a resident of the City of New York or of Nassau, Westchester, Suffolk, Orange, Rockland or Putnam counties.

English Requirement: You must be able to understand and be understood in English.

THE TEST: You will be given a multiple-choice test at a computer terminal. Your score on this test will determine your place on an eligible list. You must achieve a score of at least 70% to pass this test. The multiple-choice test may include questions that may require the use of any of the following abilities:

Written Comprehension: understanding written sentences and paragraphs. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when reviewing documents, reading traffic signs, issuing traffic violations, etc.

Written Expression: using English words or sentences in writing so that others will understand. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when recording information in a memo book or other report(s).

Memorization: remembering information such as words, numbers, pictures, and procedures. Pieces of information can be remembered by themselves or with other pieces of information. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when searching for individuals who are wanted for questioning after being presented with an image and description of the individual.

Problem Sensitivity: being able to tell when something is wrong or is likely to go wrong. It includes being able to identify the whole problem as well as elements of the problem. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when apprehending crime suspects or working with crime victims.

Deductive Reasoning: applying general rules to specific problems and coming up with logical answers. It involves deciding if an answer makes sense. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when determining the appropriate dispatch code based on the situation.

Inductive Reasoning: combining separate pieces of information, or specific answers to problems, to form general rules or conclusions. It involves the ability to think of possible reasons for why things go together. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when investigating specific offenses.

Information Ordering: following correctly a rule or set of rules or actions in a certain order. The rule or set of rules used must be given. The things or actions to be put in order can include numbers, letters, words, pictures, procedures, sentences, and mathematical or logical operations. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when storing found, seized, or recovered property.

Spatial Orientation: determining where you are in relation to the location of some object or where the object is in relation to you. This ability may be used by a Police Officer when navigating throughout their assigned precinct while on foot or in a vehicle.

Visualization: imagining how something would look when it is moved around or when its parts are moved or rearranged. It requires the forming of mental images of how patterns or objects would look after certain changes, such as unfolding or rotation. One has to predict how an object, set of objects, or pattern will appear after the changes have been carried out. This ability may be used by a Police Officer while searching for individuals who are wanted for arrest or questioning when attempting to identify such individuals who are believed to have changed their appearance.

In addition, you may be asked questions regarding standards of proper employee ethical conduct, including the provisions of Mayor's Executive Order No. 16 of 1978, as amended, and other related areas.

VETERANS' PREFERENCE CREDITS AND LEGACY CREDITS: The New York State Civil Service Law provides that additional points can be added to the final score of a candidate who is, or by the date of appointment expects to be, an honorably discharged veteran or disabled veteran of the Armed Forces of the United States who has served during a time of war, as specified in the New York State Civil Service Law; and/or a candidate whose parent or sibling has died while engaged in the discharge of his or her duties as a Police Officer, Firefighter, Emergency Medical Technician, or Paramedic, including as a result of the September 11, 2001 World Trade Center attack or participation that took place in response to the attack. To be eligible for any of these credits, a candidate must achieve a passing score on the examination. This is only an overview; specific conditions and instructions for requesting Veterans' Preference Credits and/or Legacy Credits and additional information are indicated in the Special Circumstances Guide available at the DCAS Computer-based Testing & Applications Centers and on the DCAS website at www.nyc.gov/html/dcas/html/employment/employ.shtml.

THE TEST RESULTS: If you pass the multiple-choice test and are marked eligible, your name will be placed in final score order on an eligible list and you will be given a list number. You will be notified by mail of your test results. If you meet all requirements and conditions, you will be considered for promotion when your name is reached on the eligible list.
