

First Deputy Commissioner Dina Simon joined Mayor Bill de Blasio as he signed legislation relating to inmates' access to feminine hygiene products. The new law requires the Department of Correction to ensure that all female inmates are guaranteed access to feminine hygiene products, codifying an existing Department practice into law.

