The New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene would like to thank you for participating in the Move-to-Improve (MTI) program. This program will help you implement daily, quality movement time in your child care center or Universal Pre-Kindergarten (UPK) program.

Move-to-Improve is aimed at helping child care centers and preschools in New York City comply with Article 47 of the New York City Health Code. This code requires at least 30 minutes of structured and guided physical activity per day for children ages three and older who attend full-day programs.

Move-to-Improve Early Childhood Physical Activity Guide

This manual provides you with 30 activities that can be done right in your classroom or play space. Each one contains a warm-up, an activity, and a closure, as well as music that helps to encourage movement.

Scarf and Partner Safety Tips

Scarf Safety

- Scarf safety must be explained clearly.
- Scarves should be kept off the floor to avoid any slips and falls.
- Introduce scarves by allowing time for scarf exploration while the children are seated.
- Teacher(s) or equipment helper(s) should hand out and collect scarves.
- Children who are not using their scarf properly should move closer to an adult or do the activity without the scarf. Do not ask the child to sit out.

Partner Safety

- Partner children in groups of two or ask them to partner up by going friend-to-friend or toe-to-toe.
- If there is an odd number of children, form a group of three or a teacher can participate to make the groups even.
- Learning to share, taking turns, and cooperating may be difficult for some children. If necessary, partner activities can be done individually.
At Home Physical Activity Calendar

- Encourage your children to be active by setting aside 10-15 minutes for movement every day.
- Turn off the TV, video games, MP3 player, and computer.
- Use this calendar each month by labeling the boxes with new dates.

Obesity Begins Early:
Findings Among Elementary School Children in New York City

Obesity among children is a pressing concern. Nationally, the percent of children ages 6–11 years old who are obese has nearly quadrupled, from less than 4% in the 1960s to more than 15% in 2000. There are serious long-term health consequences associated with being obese in childhood, including asthma, depression, diabetes, and heart disease.

In May 2003, the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene and the Department of Education conducted a representative survey of elementary school children in the city public school system. The survey, which measured the heights and weights of nearly 3,000 children, identified that almost half of New York City school children are not at healthy weights. This special report summarizes the survey findings and outlines important overweight and obesity prevention and management recommendations for families, schools, and providers.

Obesity is calculated based on a child’s weight, depending on height, age, and sex*. To learn more about how to define obesity in children, visit: http://www.cdc.gov/growthcharts/.

Only half (53%) of elementary school children are at a healthy weight

- Among children, 24% are obese, and an additional 19% are overweight. There is, however, also a small percent (4%) of children who are underweight.

- In all 6 grades surveyed, more than 20% of children were obese. Obesity is already a serious problem by kindergarten (21%).

* Obesity and overweight are defined by a child’s body mass index (BMI).
Obesity is a serious problem in children of all racial/ethnic groups

Boys have slightly higher obesity levels than girls

Easy-to-Do Recommendations:
Overweight and obesity occur when a child eats more calories than he or she uses in daily activity and exercise. Here are some proven tips for parents and families to use when helping children reach a healthy weight:

Increase Activity—
1. Reduce television-viewing hours
2. Walk with your children when possible
3. Encourage active play-time

Decrease Calories—
4. Reduce non-diet soft-drink consumption
5. Eat less fast food and encourage more healthy meals at home
6. Have healthy snack foods available, such as apples, bananas, or carrots
7. Replace whole milk with low-fat (1%) or skim (fat-free) milk for children over 2 years old
