Why I Volunteer

Ionie Skyers-Gilchrist, RN, NP

How long have you been a member of NYC MRC? 9 years (since 2007)

What is your profession? NP and RN

What MRC activities have you participated in lately? Health fairs- FDNY Block Party in Brownsville and St. Francis in downtown Brooklyn., Trainings-Ebola, PECO Presentation; Volunteer Leaders

Why do you volunteer for NYC MRC?

I became a NYC MRC volunteer in 2007 because I felt I could make a difference to my community especially after 911. Volunteering with MRC has given me opportunities to work with people from different backgrounds to build camaraderie and teamwork as we work toward a common goal. As a volunteer with MRC I have discovered hidden talents and skills that have changed my opinion about my self-worth and provide mental and physical rewards. MRC has given me the confidence to move out of my comfort zone to become a Volunteer Leader. Over the years I have benefited from numerous trainings offered by MRC that have helped me understand the important role I play as a MRC volunteer in being prepared to help my community in the event of a disaster. Whether it's volunteering to be a victim in a training drill by the FDNY or conducting blood pressure screening at health fairs in poor underserved communities in Brooklyn. I am proud to be a member of NYC MRC.

NYC MRC Zika Response!

Please be advised: NYC MRC will be distributing Zika-related materials at all Public Health Events until further notice.

September Emergency Notification Drill

The purpose of conducting Quarterly Emergency Notification Drills is:

1. To test the system
2. To ensure that we have correct contact information for volunteers
3. To ensure that volunteers know how to answer

The September drill will be conducted the week of September 12th.

It is vitally important that you take a minute to answer the call/email. You only have to respond on one device. You cannot respond to a voicemail—you must answer a live call, or answer the email. The call will come from a 518 area code.

This notification drill is a metric that we have to report on to the CDC.

Thank you for making the upcoming drill a success!

Introducing: NYC MRC Volunteer Leaders!

This month NYC MRC launches our Volunteer Leader Program, with seven of our volunteers stepping up to help lead our public health initiatives. Daniella Rin Hover, Mark Lasker, Angeli Medina, Simona Iliescu, Ionie Skyers-Gilchrist, Karen Abbinante and Melissa Shah will represent NYC MRC at our current public health sites, bringing the equipment and teaching materials, sign in sheets, and blood pressure metric forms. They will organize the site, liaise with the representatives of the site and support the volunteers. This program is very important to the growth of MRC. These wonderful leaders will allow MRC to expand our reach to help other communities.

Bravo to the Leaders!

MRC Serves Video Challenge!

The Medical Reserve Corps Program is excited to launch the MRC Serves! Video Challenge.

Today there are nearly 200,000 volunteers — in almost 1,000 MRC units nationwide — who selflessly share their skills, training, and time to support their local communities in need. From being among the first to respond in natural disasters; to organizing blood drives and vaccination clinics; to leading preparedness training exercises and engaging youth in public health, your commitment to service inspires us. And we want to hear your story!

MRC volunteers are invited to create and submit a short 60 -- 90 second video that answers one of the following three questions.

1. Why do I / we volunteer with the MRC?
2. How does the MRC make my community healthier?
3. How does the MRC make my community more prepared and resilient?

A winner from each category will be invited to attend the 2017 Preparedness Summit where they will be recognized by MRC Program leadership and have their travel, lodging, and expenses covered.

Entries are due no later than September 11, 2016. Full challenge details, including video guidelines and submission instructions, can be found at:

Attention Pharmacists!

A message from the New York City Health Department to community pharmacists in New York City!

As a community pharmacist, you are among the most accessible and trusted healthcare professionals in your community. We at the NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) recognize that you serve a critical role not only providing medications but also important health information to residents of your communities on a daily basis.

We are very interested in working with community pharmacists to support them in preparing for and recovering from disasters and other emergencies. However, we currently have no mechanism to communicate effectively with the more than 2000 independent community pharmacies in NYC.

To address this gap, NYC DOHMH created the Public Health Emergency Response Network Pharmacy Program (PHERN PP), a simple application that allows NYC pharmacies to quickly and easily “register” and provide pharmacy contact and other service information. This information will assist us in engaging in a productive, reciprocal exchange of information that is essential for effective emergency preparedness and response, and will enable us to better support you and your important work ensuring the health and well-being of all New Yorkers.

The registration process is simple and should only take 5 minutes.

Go to <http://on.nyc.gov/phern> and scroll down to select the PHERN Pharmacy Program. Questions about the program can be directed to Eric Medina, PHERN PP Coordinator, at PHERNPP@health.nyc.gov.
