Helpful Tips

- Pick a plan that is right for you and your family:
 - Know your family's health history, including any medications that you take and doctors you see.
 - If you have a regular health care provider, write down the insurance plan(s) they accept. Call your provider's office if you are unsure.
- Learn about health insurance terms. "Deductible," "copayments" and "coverage period" are terms that affect your options. If you need more information about how health insurance works, visit nyc.gov/hilink.

Get free, in-person assistance in your language
