Helpful Tips

- Pick a plan that is right for you and your family:
 - Know your family's health history, including any medications that you take and doctors you see.
 - If you have a regular doctor, write down the insurance plan(s) he or she accepts. (You can call your doctor's office to check this.)
- Learn about health insurance terms. "Deductible," "co-payments" and "coverage period" are terms that affect your options. If you need more information about how health insurance works, visit nyc.gov/hilink.
