District Overview

Narrative	Lower Manhattan continues to be America's fourth largest business district, even after the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, the financial crisis of 2008 and Superstorm Sandy in October 2012. During this time, public and private investment of over $30 billion was made in our neighborhood. Our location at the hub of the nation's largest mass-transit network – originally built to deliver workers to the center – now works also to provide working families with a location from which they can tap into all of our region's opportunities for work, education, recreation and culture. Lower Manhattan remains a resilient place more people want to live, work and visit. We have a lot of work to do to assure that these powerful growth trends result in a district that is livable for all. This document describes the needs of our district for more schools, more open spaces, efficient transportation, and thorough preparation for future disasters. Our needs are great but the opportunity is immense: we can show how New York City can be the 21st Century's model city for livable, equitable and thriving urban life. Pedestrian Survey          In response to a pedestrian survey conducted by students at Pace University during 2014 and 2015, close to 1200 residents, workers, tourists and students were asked to identify the most serious problems for each geographic sub-district in Community District 1 (CD1). The results varied by neighborhood, but the overall responses ranked overcrowded sidewalks and streets, unclean subway stations, too much noise and the lack of affordable housing as the most serious issues facing the district. Too much construction and homelessness ranked not far behind the lack of affordable housing. When asked "if you could immediately improve one thing that would raise the quality of life here, what would that be?" again, responses varied by neighborhood. But the aggregate responses, ranked by percentage, were <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. 49.2% "Less garbage, pollution, improve air quality."</li> <li>2. 34.5% "More affordable housing."</li> <li>3. 32.0% "More parks, open spaces and recreation."</li> <li>4. 30.8% "Less construction."</li> <li>5. 28.1% "Improve overcrowded sidewalks, streets, more parking."</li> <li>6. 18.4% "More restaurants, bars, nightlife, and shopping."</li> <li>7. 17.9% "Improve public transportation."</li> <li>8. 12.2% "Not one thing: It's Nice Here!"</li> </ol> In summary, residents, worker, tourists and students all want more affordable housing, more parks and open spaces, improved mobility and pedestrian experience in CD 1. They also want less construction and all of its attendant byproducts of garbage, pollution, poor air quality and noise. People do still love to live, work, and visit lower Manhattan because a significant number of respondents said: "Its Nice Here!"

District Overview

Three Most Important Issues	Affordable housing Schools Other Please specify below Provide funds for the design and construction of short to medium term resiliency infrastructure in anticipation of future extreme weather events.
------------------------------------	---

Commentary why these three were chosen as top issues

The child population demographic trends in Community District 1 (CD1) point to the need for additional community infrastructure and amenities in our district to serve children. In March 2013, CB1 analyzed U.S. Census data of the demographic changes by neighborhood for children ages 0 - 19 in our district. Our findings show astonishing growth. Between 2000 and 2010, the 0 - 19 population increased by 246% in the Financial District, 67% in Tribeca, and 125% in Battery Park City. While there was no net change in the Seaport/Civic Center's child population, the 0 - 4 age group increased by 57%, and the 5 - 9 age group by 44%. This trend is not exclusive to the Seaport/Civic Center; within the overall child population, there has been particularly rapid growth within the 0 - 4 and 5 - 9 age groups throughout all neighborhoods.

It is a priority of CB1 to ensure that the existing rent stabilized and affordable units in the district are preserved and that development of new affordable housing units continues. We must ensure that people who teach our children, patrol our streets, and fight our fires can afford to live here. We urge the city to build more affordable housing downtown and do everything possible to preserve existing units. We voice our concern about building owners leaving programs that require rents to remain subsidized as well as the expiration of taxation incentives for stabilized apartments. We hope the city works to ensure that Lower Manhattan remains a diverse community that is affordable to people in a range of income levels and demographic groups.

The unprecedented Sandy in 2012 brought surges of 14 feet and numerous, serious disruptions to residents and businesses in Lower Manhattan, including power outages and loss of steam (for heat and hot water), telephone, data services and transportation, including subways and flooding of tunnels. Two people were trapped by rising water and drowned. Disruptions were particularly severe in the South Street Seaport; historic buildings suffered great damage and while many businesses have reopened, some businesses and non-profits are still struggling and have not fully recovered. The South Street Seaport area was especially devastated by water seven feet above street level. The City still has not implemented any short or medium-term measures although we are approaching the three year anniversary of Sand

Health Care and Human Services

Health Care and Human Services Most Important Issue	Services to reduce homelessness
Most Important Issue Explanation	CD1 has a long history of concern for homeless people in our community. We supported John Heuss House, a drop-in facility for homeless and hungry people that was operated by Trinity Church until it closed in 2010. We also have a close relationship with the NYC Rescue Mission, which opened its expanded shelter at 90 Lafayette Street to serve approximately 240 people each night. The success of our efforts to reclaim the Lower Manhattan waterfront and other open spaces as community amenities requires that people are safe and secure when they visit. In this regard, it is important that governments at all levels maintain acceptable funding for the police and The New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (NYCDOHMH).

Health Care and Facilities Programming -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	Gouverneur Healthcare Services is the closest municipal hospital to CD1 and is located in CD3. Some of our residents receive medical treatment there. In addition, Gouverneur is one of the WTC Environmental Health Centers of Excellence, along with the Bellevue Hospital Center, which were established to address physical and mental health issues resulting from September 11, 2001. The WTC Health Program is administered by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) which was established by the James Zadroga 9/11 Health and Compensation Act of 2010 and is up for renewal in 2015.

Facilities and Programming for Older New Yorkers -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	Provide funding for a senior services referral center. CB1 is especially concerned about the ability of seniors to remain and age in place in our district. Fixed incomes cannot keep pace with rapid inflation in housing costs, especially rent and property taxes, that rise as neighborhoods become more desirable.

Youth, Education and Child Welfare

Youth, Education and Child Welfare Most Important Issue: Capacity of educational facilities

Most Important Issue Explanation: We were encouraged in June 2013 when the Department of Education (DOE) announced the addition of 1,000 new school seats in Lower Manhattan in its 5-Year Capital Plan. However, in November 2013, the school seats south of Canal Street were cut from 1,000 to 456, with the remaining 544 seats to be sited north of Canal Street in Community District 2. Following that announcement, in February 2014, Assembly Member Sheldon Silver, Assembly Member Deborah Glick and Council Member Margaret Chin each sent letters to DOE Chancellor Carmen Farina highlighting the need for an additional school south of Canal Street. We intend to continue working with the DOE, School Construction Authority (SCA) and Assembly Member Silver's School Overcrowding Task Force to create adequate school seats for our district.

Educational Facilities and Programs

Educational Needs and Budget Requests: Yes

Educational Facilities and Programs -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information: Construct sufficient number of school seats in CB1 in the next 5-year Capital Plan to meet the need resulting from the rapid growth in the population of our district in recent years. There is no public K-8 school in the Financial District, despite being the neighborhood with the fastest growing youth population (see attachment).

As a growing residential community, CD1 needs additional active and passive recreational space including ballfields. This issue remains a top priority for CB1, and with so little active recreation space available in Lower Manhattan, we are forced to search for available fields outside of our district to accommodate our growing population of children and the resulting growth in sports leagues. Community sports are important for the development of youth and sense of community.

Public Safety

Public Safety Most Important Issue	General crime
Most Important Issue Explanation	In order to continue to thrive, our community must remain secure and retain the quality of life valued by its residents and workers. In recent years the crime rate in our district has remained at reasonably low levels, however we cannot take for granted that this will continue. In addition to preventing and responding to crimes against people and property, we rely on the NYPD as well as other enforcement agencies to control quality of life problems in our busy mixed-use district, which is also a major tourist destination. These include idling buses, placard parking, double-parking, bike lanes, homelessness and vendors. Dangerous intersections remain a primary concern for our district. Crossing guards are consistently in high demand as they would help alleviate this problem.

Policing and Crime

Policing and Crime Needs and Budget Requests	Yes
--	-----

Policing and Crime -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information

CB1 has numerous and significant needs in the area of public safety. The development of the WTC will require a permanent WTC Command Center and a site for it remains to be identified. CB1 has urged the NYPD to expedite its search for space for this important facility as much as possible and restore the stables that were displaced to make room for the temporary precinct.

The NYPD has developed a WTC Campus Security Plan to restrict and regulate traffic at the perimeters of the site. Although we are concerned about creating a fortress-like presence in our community, CB1 looks forward to working with the NYPD, local leaders and stakeholders to find the right balance between safety considerations and livability so that the area will be thriving and vibrant, commercially successful as well as secure.

We also strongly recommend that to the greatest extent possible, where safety concerns allow, areas closed after September 11, 2001 be re-opened to the public. We have worked with Friends of City Hall Park to increase public access to restricted parts of City Hall Park. Comparable ways to safely reopen Park Row are necessary to relieve severe burdens placed on nearby residents and businesses by restrictions associated with 1 Police Plaza.

In addition to crime against people and property, CD1 also has many significant quality of life problems. We rely on the NYPD as well as other agencies for enforcement to keep these problems under control.

Our district is a destination for many double-decker as well as commuter and tour buses. These generate complaints about idling, blocking sidewalks and street crossings, and other disruptive activity. Enforcement in this area by the NYPD, NYC DOT, DEP and other relevant agencies such as the agency that issues their permits, the NYC Department of Consumer Affairs, must continue.

Other quality of life problems that occur excessively in our district include the abuse of placard parking. CB1 is home to many government agency offices and facilities, and enforcement is needed to keep under control the chronic and acute problem with government-authorized vehicles occupying limited space for parking and taking up parking needed by emergency service and commercial vehicles.

We also need to address the homeless situation discussed elsewhere by providing adequate and appropriate services for this vulnerable population.

Core Infrastructure and City Services Most Important Issue	Sewer capacity
Most Important Issue Explanation	New York City has a combined sewer and storm water system. During heavy rain and snow storms, combined sewers receive higher than normal flows. According to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), treatment plants are unable to handle flows more than twice design capacity and when this occurs, a mix of excess storm water and untreated wastewater discharges directly into the City's waterways at certain outfalls. This is called a combined sewer overflow (CSO). We are concerned about CSOs because of their effect on water quality and recreational uses.

Water, Sewers and Environmental Protection -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	There is a need to need to mitigate the negative impact of over 90 major public and private construction projects (see attached) in the approximately 1.5 square miles of CB1 so that during this rapid time of transformation people will want to continue to live, work and to visit our community. Inspection of construction sites to monitor and regulate dust, noise and air pollution and safety is not only needed during the workweek, but also after hours and on weekends as deliveries of supplies and removal of debris are shifted to off hours to avoid peak traffic congestion resulting in after-hours work. CB1 would like to see budget increases for investment in new technologies required to advance sewage treatment plants and wastewater management e.g. greenbelts and bio swales. Helicopters, specifically those catering to tourists, cause innumerable quality of life issues for our District including environmental concerns such as noise and air pollution.

There have been several water main breaks in Tribeca in recent years, one earlier this year, one last year and another in 2009. We are looking forward to the completion of Water Tunnel No. 3 in 2020 so that Tunnel No. 1 and No. 2 can be closed for inspection and repairs. Sanitation Services

Sanitation Services -- Needs and Requests
High level comments or background information	The increase in the district's residential population and restaurants has increased the amount of garbage on our streets. It is important that the Sanitation Department is given the resources that it needs to ensure that the streets in our district are kept clean. Mounds of plastic trash bags clutter the streets at all times of day and are unsightly and a health hazard. The frequency of garbage pick-ups needs to be increased. Resources should also be increased to address the proliferation of rats in Lower Manhattan. The number of days when there are piles of trash and recyclables on the street is increased because there are separate days for pickup of recyclables vs. trash and residential vs. commercial waste. When new buildings are built or old buildings are converted, part of the design process should include where the garbage will go and how it will be picked up. The landmarked street grid of the Financial District has narrow sidewalks and streets, making it difficult to navigate areas congested with piles of garbage and waste left out for recycling. CB1 supports the "Make Way for Lower Manhattan" plan presented by Buro Happold Engineering, which suggests ways to improve quality of life and mobility issues.

Land Use, Housing and Economic Development Most Important Issue	Zoning review and enforcement, and code enforcement
Most Important Issue Explanation	Community Board 1 is a rapidly changing district with dramatic increases in population, facing an enormous amount of construction and still recovering from Superstorm Sandy. The zoning for CB1 must be reviewed so that it best meets the changing needs of the district.

Land Use

Land Use -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	Decades-long increases in residential population, office workers and tourism have significantly increased the density of of the district. This has heightened concerns about infrastructure capacity as well as resiliency. Our waterfront remains particularly vulnerable. Many recent large developments in the CB1 area as well as those underway will add to this pressure.

Provide funds for staff to study land use patterns and zoning designations to better match current use and future neighborhood needs. This includes the Tribeca area of Community Board 1, which has seen a dramatic rise in sidewalk cafes throughout the district that are often located on crowded, narrow side streets that are inappropriate for this use. CB1 would like to see a study of zoning options that would limit sidewalk cafes in Tribeca. Also, funds should be allocated for staff to determine the impact of contextual zoning district proposals and revise current zoning regulations for CB1 so that City services and infrastructure are best able to support the growing population of residents, workers, tourists and students.

Housing Needs and Programming -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	The rapid and continuing growth of the population of CD1 in recent years has created significant challenges. Since 2000 CD1 has added over 16,000 housing units, with a total of over 34,000 units by 2010, an almost 90% increase, making CD1 the city's fastest growing residential community. Our records indicate that almost 5,000 residential units are under construction or in the pipeline. CD1's rapidly growing residential population and the continuous addition of residential units to the housing stock create a unique set of housing issues in Lower Manhattan. After 9/11, incentives for the development of housing units in Lower Manhattan spurred a boom in residential conversions, and residential development remains strong today. However, community infrastructure falls critically short in meeting the needs of this considerable residential growth. Being a district with many ongoing construction projects, resulting issues such as scaffolding become critical problems. Scaffolding particularly is a blight on our District, going up and remaining indefinitely, creating circulation and safety issues and hindering economic development.

Transportation Most Important Issue	Accessibility
Most Important Issue Explanation	In Lower Manhattan, narrow streets, many ongoing public and private construction projects, vehicular/pedestrian conflict and crowded public transportation present many challenges. Much work still needs to be done to ensure that our streets are safe and accessible to all. We are in a period of transition with the introduction of bike share, the opening of the Fulton Transit Center and the anticipated opening of the WTC Transportation hub, but we still have many significant issues and areas of interest such as commercial cyclists, helicopters, subway and ferry service, one-seat ride to the airport and the 2nd Avenue Subway.

Traffic and Transportation Infrastructure

Traffic and Transportation Infrastructure Needs and Budget Requests	Yes

Traffic and Transportation Infrastructure -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	Community District 1 faces many issues in regards to traffic and transportation infrastructure and public transit services. CB1 has worked with NYCDOT to enhance street crossings and improve pedestrian safety on select streets, but much work still needs to be done. We have many old streets which require cobblestone repair. New developments also require substantial improvement of street conditions, as in the case of the 5 Beekman development and improvements to Theater Alley. The completion of both sidewalks and bike lanes on the east and west along Route 9A between Liberty and Albany is a safety priority, along with the opening of the pedestrian bridge between Battery Park City and the Vehicular Security Center Liberty Garden. CD1 has many dangerous intersections. We would like enhanced streetscape improvements to ensure safety at these intersections, but until then the budget must be increased to provide crossing guards. We are pleased by the progress of plans to construct a permanent pedestrian bridge at West Thames Street. This bridge has been in design for well over a decade and remains a priority as many pedestrians, including seniors and children, need to cross the dangerous Route 9A highway. The temporary pedestrian bridge at Rector Street was built by NYSDOT after 9/11 and needs to be replaced by a permanent structure. We have worked with the Mayor's office and NYC Economic Development Corporation (NYC EDC) to provide input on the design of the bridge so that it meets the needs of our changing community. We are encouraged by the opening of the Fulton Transit Center and the anticipated opening of the WTC Transportation Hub. However, subway and bus overcrowding and service and station cleanliness remain critical issues in Lower Manhattan. Cyclists, specifically commercial cyclists, often disregard rules and pose a threat to themselves and vehicular and pedestrian traffic. Better enforcement is needed.

Transit Services -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	While Lower Manhattan has plans for transportation improvements, all efforts must be made to protect one of its most valuable assets – its dense transportation network. All efforts must be made to make subways, bus routes, tunnels/underpasses, the Brooklyn Bridge, ferries and docks resilient to extreme weather events. Billions of dollars of existing investment must be hardened. Currently underway are three major tunnel repairs due to Sandy: the Hugh L. Carey Tunnel (formerly Brooklyn-Battery Tunnel), the South Ferry Station and the Battery Park Underpass. These repairs are costly, take years to complete and add to commuter travel time.

Parks, Cultural and other Community Facilities Most Important Issue	Quality of parks and park facilities

Most Important Issue Explanation	Quality parks are essential to the mental and physical well-being of community residents and strengthen resiliency to storms and extreme climate events. CD1 lacks sufficient active and recreational space to meet the needs of its rapidly growing population. In July 2011, CB1 documented this inadequacy in a report which found that there are approximately 3.5 million square feet of open and park space in CB 1. However, the analysis conducted for the report concluded that a large portion of this open space does not serve the community, is not accessible, and does not facilitate active recreation. Therefore it is extremely important that the parkland we have be of the highest quality possible and that as much new parkland and open space as possible be developed in CD1.

Parks and Recreational Needs and Budget Requests	Yes

Parks and Recreational Facilities and Programming -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	CB1 has some important needs associated with our existing parks and open spaces. The Battery is a vibrant part of the CD1 waterfront which provides a resilient edge as protection from future storms. Its integrity must be maintained and strengthened. CB1 looks forward to the fulfillment of inspiring plans presented in recent years. We were very pleased when the SeaGlass Carousel opened in August 2015 and we look forward to the fulfillment of other inspiring plans presented in recent years for The Battery including the Green and bikeway that will link the Hudson River Park Bikeway to the East River Esplanade, and the imaginative and educational Playspace for children designed by Frank Gehry. However some commercial activity detracts from the experience of visiting the park. We continue to receive complaints about vendors in The Battery aggressively selling tickets for bus and boat trips and blocking narrow pathways. Stepped up enforcement is needed. East River Esplanade Open space is in short supply on the east side of Lower Manhattan. However, there is an extensive waterfront, which, when fully developed, will be a wonderful amenity for the community. We welcome efforts by NYC Economic Development Corporation (EDC) to fully realize the long anticipated East River Esplanade and Piers Project, which includes the Wall Street and Pier 15 area that are now open to the public. Additional funds will be needed to fully implement the comprehensive waterfront restoration project envisioned in the City's well-received East River Waterfront concept plan put forward in 2005. CB1 urges NYC EDC and the Department of City Planning to identify additional funds, complete a final design and move forward expeditiously to complete and maintain this project. Elizabeth H. Berger Plaza (formerly Edgar Plaza) This plan would create a needed new park that could help transform and revitalize the part of Greenwich South near the exit from the Brooklyn Battery Tunnel. We strongly support the redevelopment of Elizabeth H. Berger Plaza in accordance with the proposal developed by the Downtown Alliance. Governors Island The 172 acres on Governors Island contain numerous well-maintained historic structures and playing fields, and we support efforts by the Trust for Governors Island to make as much of it as possible accessible to the public.

There are currently esplanades/bikeways along both the East and Hudson Rivers starting at the Battery and stretching northward. There is, however, no easy connection between them that enables travelers to go around the Battery and proceed up the other side of Manhattan. It has long been a goal of many downtown organizations to create a continuous waterfront esplanade and bikeway around Manhattan. Cultural and other Community Facilities and Programming -- Needs and Requests

High level comments or background information	The east side of our community, which includes the South Street Seaport/Civic Center and Financial District, was radically transformed in the last decade into a thriving mixed-use community with a large residential population. Though our entire district has experienced tremendous growth in recent years, the population growth on the east side has made it the fastest growing neighborhood in the city. However, it does not have a community center, or other recreational facilities or a public library. The South Street Seaport Museum has been unable to open its galleries at 12-14 Fulton St. because of damage to the electrical systems from Sandy. Exhibits can't be mounted in rooms that are not correctly heated and air conditioned. The Museum needs to keep both its land-based premises and its ships to tell the story of how New York began and grew as a great port. They are an important cultural hub in a historic district that is unique in New York City. The permanent location for the New York City Police Museum remains closed due to damage from Sandy. It is not clear when the museum can reopen. We continue to support the museum's efforts to reopen in CD1 We also strongly support creation of the WTC Performing Arts Center (PAC) at site 1B on the WTC site. $100 million was allocated by the Lower Manhattan Development Corporation (LMDC) for this project which would create construction and long term jobs, and promote the economic revitalization of the neighborhood. The Manhattan Youth Downtown Community Center in Tribeca serves people of all ages and has developed programs in response to evolving community needs. In addition, the Asphalt Green community center and the community center at Stuyvesant High School, both in Battery Park City, serve our growing community. We need to ensure that all such facilities in CD1 receive needed funding to provide places where children and teenagers can play, learn, and grow; where our seniors can socialize and find needed resources and intellectual stimulation; and where all adults can pursue personal enrichment through fitness and continuing education.

Request	Extend library hours or expand and enhance library programs
Agency	If Manhattan, Bronx or Staten Island then NYPL; If Queens then QPL; If Brooklyn then BPL
Budget Category	Expense
Please explain and specify your request. The more specific your request is the better the City is able to respond. Please limit your explanation to 100 words	Restore funding to FY08 levels to provide increased hours, diverse programming, strong collections and sufficient staff to support these functions. The services provided through the Library are needed by New Yorkers now more than ever and with increased funding can be open more hours, including evenings and weekends, when working families need them.

Community Boards -- Needs and Requests
High level comments or background information	The current annual budget allocation for Community Boards is woefully inadequate to address the rapidly increasing needs faced by our Lower Manhattan Community Board. Community Boards play a critical role in providing local residents and workers with a voice in determining policies and priorities for their community. A long-awaited and much-needed increase would greatly assist us in fulfilling our important mission, particularly at a time when Lower Manhattan is undergoing tremendous construction and redevelopment projects that challenge the quality of life of our residents and workers.

Please explain and specify your request. The more specific your request is the better the City is able to respond. Please limit your explanation to 100 words	Increase staff budget for the Landmarks Preservation Commission, including for enforcement. With the huge increase in residential conversions and landmark designations in our historic districts, LPC enforcement does not have the adequate staff to protect all of the historical treasures of our city.

Please explain and specify your request. The more specific your request is the better the City is able to respond. Please limit your explanation to 100 words	Build a community center to serve the increased population east of Broadway in Lower Manhattan. The population in Lower Manhattan is growing rapidly. The majority of the recent population growth has occurred east of Broadway in the Financial District and Seaport areas. The two community centers currently operating in Lower Manhattan are west of Broadway and west of West Street, respectively. A community center must be developed on the east side in order to serve the rapidly growing number of residents there.
