Q1 When did media production resume in NYC?

A1 July 20, 2020, the date when NYC entered Phase Four (media production was allowed on a more limited basis prior to Phase Four). All media production is subject to guidance set forth in the New York State Department of Health Interim Guidance for Media Production During the COVID-19 Public Health Emergency \("NYS Production Guidance"\). The guidance encompasses "all activities undertaken in motion picture, music, television, and streaming productions on set, on location, or at any production or recording site." In addition, the guidance applies to still photography, according to the New York State Empire State Development Corporation Business Reopening Wizard.

Q2 Is there any general COVID-19 guidance for businesses opening in New York City?

A2 Yes. Please see, the NYC Health Department's Reopening New York City: Frequently Asked Questions online at <https://www1.nyc.gov/assets/doh/downloads/pdf/imm/covid-19-reopening-nyc-faq.pdf>.

Q3 What is the maximum number of cast and crew allowed by MOME at exterior locations on public property covered by Film Permits?

- A3
- As of March 1, 2021, MOME lifted City-imposed caps on cast and crew. (The remainder of the Commissioner's directive and State guidance continues to apply.)
 - The New York State Department of Health Interim Guidance for Media Production During the COVID-19 Public Health Emergency \("NYS Production Guidance"\) states that only "essential individuals" are allowed at production locations and productions are encouraged to minimize the use of extras and other cast and crew.
 - MOME has discretion to limit the number of cast and crew allowed on public property covered by a Film Permit in order to minimize the risk to participants, onlookers or the general public, under 34 RCNY section 9-02.
 - In COVID-19 Red Zones, OFTB will not issue Film Permits for any activity, except to news media. (In COVID-19 Orange and Yellow Zones, media production activity is allowed—the caps on social gatherings do not apply to media production.) To find out where the Zones are, please visit www.nyc.gov/covidzone.
 - The production may not prohibit the public from using streets, sidewalks, or other public property.

Q4 What are the state rules about cast and crew size?

A4 The New York State Department of Health Interim Guidance During the COVID-19 Public Health Emergency and New York State Executive Order 202.68 of October 6, 2020, and state law provides:

- No production activity is allowed on-site in a Red Zone. (In COVID-19 Orange and Yellow Zones, media production activity is allowed—the caps on social gatherings do not apply to media production.) To find out where the zones are, please visit www.nyc.gov/covidzone.
- For production activity in indoor media production facilities or locations, up to 50% of the area's maximum capacity on the certificate of occupancy or the maximum capacity of the space if there is no certificate of occupancy (unless the space is designed for one person). Employees, cast, and crew are limited to essential individuals.
- For live studio audiences, up to 25% of the audience capacity or 100 individuals, whichever is lower. Audience members must maintain social distance of 6 feet in all directions. Audiences must be paid cast, crew, and other employees.
- For production activity in offices, up to 50% of the office's maximum capacity on the certificate of occupancy.
- For construction activity (e.g., building sets), no more than 1 worker per 250 square feet is allowed on site, excluding supervisors, or a distance of at least 6 feet must be maintained among workers at all times, unless the core activity requires a shorter distance and workers are masked. The NYC Department of Health strongly recommends masks for all indoor activity in a shared space even if 6 feet of distance can be maintained.

Q5 What kind of filming activity does not require a Film Permit?

A5 OFTB issues permits for some activity on public property. Productions using a hand-held camera, camera on tripod, hand-held props and/or hand-held equipment, not asserting exclusive use of City of New York ("City") public property, not using prop weapons, prop vehicles, stunts, actors in police uniform and not requesting parking privileges for production vehicles do not need a permit. Standing on a City sidewalk, walkway of a City bridge or within a City park while using a hand-held camera and not otherwise asserting exclusive use of City property is not an activity that requires a Film Permit.
