

Citywide Partnerships for Citywide Reach

OCHIA connects NYC residents and businesses to health coverage and care through a broad network of public and private partners who assist to find, identify and educate them on how and where to get health coverage and low- cost health care services.

