THE AGENCY

The Department of City Planning (DCP) plans for the strategic growth and development of the City through ground-up planning with communities, the development of land use policies and zoning regulations applicable citywide and sharing its perspectives on growth and community needs with sister agencies in collaboration with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

DCP’s six strategic objectives include: (a) catalyze long-term neighborhood improvement through integrated planning and targeted accompanying public investments; (b) encourage housing production, affordability, and quality; (c) promote economic development and job growth; (d) enhance resiliency and sustainability of neighborhoods; (e) ensure integrity, timeliness and responsiveness in land use reviews; and, (f) supply objective data and expertise to a broad range of planning functions and stakeholders.

Central to its mission, DCP supports the City Planning Commission in its annual review of approximately 450 land use applications. The Department also works closely with OMB in developing the Ten-Year Capital Strategy, and helping administer the Neighborhood Development Fund, geared toward ensuring that growing neighborhoods undergoing rezoning have accompanying infrastructure investments.

The New York City Department of City Planning is a great place to work – cultivating intellectual inspiration, professional development and creativity. THE DIVISION:

The Zoning Division is responsible for a wide range of zoning and urban design studies and projects, including formulating city-wide and local area studies and projects leading to applications for zoning text amendments, assessing the design implications of zoning text amendments, and providing technical assistance to the Department, the City Planning Commission, other city agencies and the general public.
THE ROLE:
The Zoning Division is seeking a City Planner to support its work in developing the agency’s Zoning for Zero Carbon proposal. This proposal is part of the Mayor’s Blueprint for Economic Recovery and aims to promote sustainability by removing zoning impediments to high-performance buildings, decarbonization retrofit projects, solar energy, electric vehicle charging, and energy storage systems, as well as other measures that will be needed to help achieve the City’s ambitious climate goals. The candidate should possess strong research and analysis skills, an ability to communicate complex subject matters, and good technical writing skills. Familiarity with sustainable development issues and their interface with buildings and land use regulations is preferred.

Under supervision, with latitude for independent judgment, the City Planner will:

- Develop a high degree of knowledge of the Zoning Resolution through research and project experience;
- Plan, organize and conduct studies, including research analysis, and prepare written, graphic and oral presentations;
- Draft zoning language for text amendments;
- Review applications for zoning text amendments;
- Support the management of text amendment projects and planning studies and coordinate this work with other divisions of the Department, other city agencies, Borough President’s offices, the City Council and the public;
- Make presentations to other Department staff, the City Planning Commission, Borough Presidents and City Council;
- Provide technical assistance to applicants for zoning actions and to the public for information;
- Represent the department at meetings of civic, business and community groups, and public agencies; and perform other related tasks.

PREFERRED SKILLS
- Excellent writing skills.
- Strong presentation and communication skills.
- Strong research, analytical and organizational skills.
- Good interpersonal skills and an ability to work effectively with other planners, divisions, city agencies, elected officials and applicants.
- Ability to work independently and to complete assignments in a timely fashion.
- Familiarity with the city's land use review process and procedures.
- Familiarity with zoning practices.
- Competence in GIS software and graphics programs.
- Ability to read architectural drawings and conceptualize spaces from two-dimensional plans.
