DISCLAIMER: The NYC Department of City Planning does not offer Sponsorship, of any kind, for any type of employment opportunity.

MUST BE SERVING PERMANENTLY IN THE TITLE OF CITY PLANNER OR REACHABLE ON THE CITY PLANNER CIVIL SERVICE LIST EXAM 1112

THE AGENCY:
The Department of City Planning (DCP) plans for the strategic growth and development of the City through ground-up planning with communities, the development of land use policies and zoning regulations applicable citywide and sharing its perspectives on growth and community needs with sister agencies in collaboration with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

DCP’s six strategic objectives include: (a) catalyze long-term neighborhood improvement through integrated planning and targeted accompanying public investments; (b) encourage housing production, affordability, and quality; (c) promote economic development and job growth; (d) enhance resiliency and sustainability of neighborhoods; (e) ensure integrity, timeliness and responsiveness in land use reviews; and, (f) supply objective data and expertise to a broad range of planning functions and stakeholders.

Central to its mission, DCP supports the City Planning Commission in its annual review of approximately 450 land use applications. The Department also works closely with OMB in developing the Ten-Year Capital Strategy, and helping administer the Neighborhood Development Fund, geared toward ensuring that growing neighborhoods undergoing rezoning have accompanying infrastructure investments.

THE DIVISION:
Manhattan is home to over 1.6 million residents and serves as the economic engine of the regional economy with well over 2 million workers commuting to and within the borough daily. The landscape of Manhattan is highly varied and ranges from very high-density office and residential districts to low scale rowhouses, stretching the full 13.4 miles of the island. The borough includes the sources of some of the most iconic images of the global imagination – Times Square, Wall Street, Central Park, Harlem, the United Nations – as well as countless hidden gems around every corner. The Manhattan Borough Office, located in the Department of City Planning’s headquarters building in the heart of Manhattan’s Financial District, is responsible for developing borough-wide and local area plans, reviewing and processing ULURP and non-ULURP land use applications, and providing technical and policy guidance and direction on all land use and zoning related matters to the City Planning Commission, local Community Boards, elected officials and the public at large. The Manhattan Office emphasizes planning and urban design that create a more equitable city, with rich opportunities for and access to housing, employment, recreation, and transit. The approximately 20-person Office is comprised of professional planners working in teams arranged by community district as well as urban designers that work borough-wide across a wide range of projects.

RESPONSIBILITIES
The Manhattan Office seeks a talented planner to support and manage current and future land use applications and neighborhood planning initiatives throughout the borough. The planner will also work as part of a team of planners, led by a Planning Team Leader, focusing on projects located within the East Side of Manhattan.

The Borough’s East Side Team comprises three community districts along a roughly six-mile long portion of the island, spanning the Brooklyn Bridge to East 96th Street. The East Side is home to many of the iconic and densely populated urban neighborhoods that define the character of the city, including the East Village, Lower East Side, Chinatown, the United Nations, East Midtown and the Upper East Side. Together these neighborhoods house over 500,000 New Yorkers, as well as some of New York City’s leading job centers and medical institutions in the East Side Medical Corridor.

The position involves project management of land use applications as they move through the charter mandated land use review process, including cross-divisional coordination of projects and application of agency and administration policy. The position includes regular attendance at community board meetings, presentation of agency initiatives to the board and its committees, and regular communication with board leadership regarding projects in the land use review process as well as broader planning and land use issues. This position would also support the broader Manhattan division through direct project management of land use applications elsewhere in the borough where there are heavy project workloads.

The Manhattan division consistently manages between 100-150 active land use applications and requires a full complement of planning staff to ensure projects are advanced on reasonable timelines consistent with the agency’s Charter-mandated role in the land use approval process. The ideal candidate will have exceptional technical planning skills and a strong grasp of land use and public policy issues of primary importance to the department, including zoning, urban design, affordable housing, and economic development. The candidates should also have a positive attitude toward public service, as well as a desire to contribute to an engaging, team-based work environment.

Under Supervision of division management and a Team Leader, with latitude for independent judgment, the City Planner will perform work including – but not limited to – the following:

- Provide project management and other support for division’s neighborhood plans and private and agency/city land use applications.
- Review analyze site plans and development proposals to determine compliance with NYC zoning regulations and the City’s land use planning policies and make recommendations on applications submitted to the Department; review of both ULURP and non-ULURP development proposals.
- Plan organize and conduct zoning, land use and urban design studies, research data, analyze conditions, prepare maps and written reports for land use policy proposals.
• Develop and execute community engagement and outreach strategies to advance neighborhood planning efforts
• Organize and prepare graphic and written materials, and present to the City Planning Commission, department staff, community boards, elected officials and public agencies.
• Maintain a working knowledge of the NYC Zoning Resolution
• Represent the department at community boards and other meetings to gather information and convey the Department’s positions on neighborhood planning and design issues and proposals.
• Coordinate with other agency representatives on Department studies and projects.
• Perform other related tasks and projects.

PREFERRED SKILLS:
• Experience managing projects and studies; ability to lead meetings effectively and inclusively
• Proficiency with ArcGIS mapping and analysis is strongly preferred
• Knowledge of the functions and capabilities of specialized software including Adobe Creative Suite and SketchUp
• Excellent presentation and written communication skills; experience speaking publicly and making effective presentations
• Proven ability to complete tasks in a timely fashion under minimal supervision and manage multiple projects simultaneously
• Ability to work well in teams with a diverse mix of community stakeholders, staff, elected and appointed officials
• Ability to attend evening and weekend meetings.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS:
Authorization to work in the United States is required for this position. NYC Department of City Planning does not provide sponsorship for international employees. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that they meet all minimum qualifying requirements for this position, at the time of application.

1. A baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and two years of satisfactory full-time experience in city planning; or

2. A satisfactory combination of education and/or experience that is equivalent to “1” above. Graduate education in city planning, urban planning, urban design, architecture, landscape architecture, transportation engineering, public administration, economic development or related fields may be substituted for experience on the basis of 30 graduate semester credits from an accredited college for one year of experience. However, all candidates must have a baccalaureate degree.

Special Qualification Requirements

Assignment Level III
To be eligible for placement in Assignment Level III, individuals must have, after meeting the minimum requirements, one additional year of professional experience as described in "2" above.

Assignment Level IV
To be eligible for placement in Assignment Level IV, individuals must have, after meeting the minimum requirements, two additional years of professional experience as described in "2" above.
