LPC review of archaeological sensitivity models and historic maps indicates that there is potential for the recovery of remains from Colonial and 19th Century occupation on the project site. Accordingly, the Commission recommends that an archaeological documentary study be performed for this site to clarify these initial findings and provide the threshold for the next level of review, if such review is necessary (see CEQR Technical Manual 2014). The report should take into consideration previous archeological investigations within and adjacent to the site as indicated in the following reports:

Historical Perspectives, Inc. 1995 Two Bridges Urban Renewal Area, Manhattan, New York.
Phase 1A Archaeological Study. CEQR 94-HPD-019M. [258 South Street]

Comments:

Project site appears to have archeological potential. Previous LPC comments regarding previous no impact finding did not apply to total area of project site as currently proposed in its revised plan. LPC review of archaeological sensitivity models and historic maps indicates that there is potential for the recovery of remains from Colonial, and 19th Century occupation on the project site. Accordingly, the Commission recommends that an archaeological documentary study be performed for this site to clarify these initial findings and provide the threshold for the next level of review, if such review is necessary (see CEQR Technical Manual 2014). The report should take into consideration previous archeological investigations within and adjacent to the site as indicated in the following reports:
