PROTECTING WORKERS & KEEPING THE INDUSTRY ACCOUNTABLE

Keeping workers safe and incidents down on construction sites is a critical mission of the New York City Department of Buildings (Department). We believe that all workers deserve to return home safely to their family. We know that in order to back that statement up we need innovative strategies that promote a culture of safety at all construction sites.

In order to protect workers from injuries and death, we've created a dedicated inspection unit that focuses 100% on proactive enforcement at larger construction sites. For the nearly 7,000 larger construction sites across the City, where workers are required to have site safety training, they are now guaranteed a visit from our proactive inspectors, multiple times over the course of their project. This is a game-changer for the City and for the construction industry.

The results speak for themselves. In 2019 we saw an over 20% decrease in injuries on sites compared to the previous year. During our first cycle of unannounced proactive inspections, at least 75% of construction sites were found to have violations. Now in subsequent site inspection cycles, 75% of construction sites see no violations issued.

DOB's After Hours Variance Map

Keeping Track of After Hours Work

We are committed to increasing transparency and ensuring our stakeholders have the information they need to stay on top of permitted work in their neighborhood. All work occurring on Monday through Friday between the hours of 7:00am and 6:00pm is allowed with a regular construction permit. Any work before or after those hours and on the weekend require an After Hours Variance (AHV).

To help you know what is going on after hours we've created an AHV Map (see photo above). This map is updated daily and shows all locations that have been permitted for after-hours work. If you see work happening after hours and it's not on the map please call 311 and make a complaint.

To make sure the complaint is directed to the Department for us to respond, please say the following:

REPORTING AN AHV . . .

Use the highlighted language to correctly report an AHV complaint to DOB.

"I would like to make a complaint for the Department of Buildings. I'm reporting active construction work that is being conducted after normal working hours without an approved After Hours Variance on file."

DOB Deploys Teams to Earthquake Stricken Puerto Rico

After the enormous 6.4 magnitude quake hit Puerto Rico on January 7, DOB sent staff members to Puerto Rico to support the City of San Juan and affected municipalities including Guayanilla, Ponce, Peñuelas and Guánica. Our team coordinated response operations and assisted with recovery efforts following the devastating quake.

DOB inspectors, architects, and engineers conducted 16,330 rapid building inspections across the island that included assessments of critical buildings like schools and hospitals. These inspections helped to identify which earthquake-damaged buildings were still safe to occupy.
