Statement of Basis and Purpose

These rules amend the provisions of chapter 9 (Commuter Van Services) of the Taxi and Limousine Commission’s Rules to impose a requirement that owners of commuter vans post passenger bills of rights in their vehicles for the benefit of the riding public.

The requirement for a commuter van bill of rights stems from local law 73 of 2009 which amends section 19-537 the New York City Administrative Code to add the requirement that commuter vans carry a bill of rights in form and format prescribed by the Commission.

In addition to requiring the passenger bills of rights, these rules also amend certain of the requirements for owners and drivers of vehicles licensed under chapter 9 of the Commission’s rules to create the passenger rights enumerated in the bills of rights, to the extent that these rights were not already provided for in existing rules. These changes include:

- Vehicles must have working heating and air conditioning to be used at the request of passenger(s).
• Drivers must follow passenger requests regarding the use of audio equipment.
• Drivers must not engage in unnecessary horn honking.
• Vehicles must have working seatbelts.
• Drivers must not request tips.
• Commuter vans must be kept clean.

Finally, existing commuter van markings rules are clarified to provide that service markings must be in English but may be in another language as well.
