Immigrant History Week 2006

Historically, immigrants have been important contributors to New York City's building industry. New York City starts its official celebration of Immigrant History Week on April 17th -- the date in 1907 when more immigrants entered through Ellis Island than any other day in its history. Mayor Bloomberg, along with the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs, introduced this special week as a means to educate all New Yorkers about the enormous contributions immigrants continue to make to our City. For more information and a schedule of events, visit the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs at www.NYC.gov/immigrants.
