

Role of Transportation in Health Panel Moderator Presentation

Arun Karpur, MD, MPH
Research Faculty

K. Lisa Yang and Hock E. Tan Institute on Employment and Disability, ILR School.

Cornell University

16 E 34th St.

New York, NY 10016

ak564@cornell.edu

Objectives and Agenda

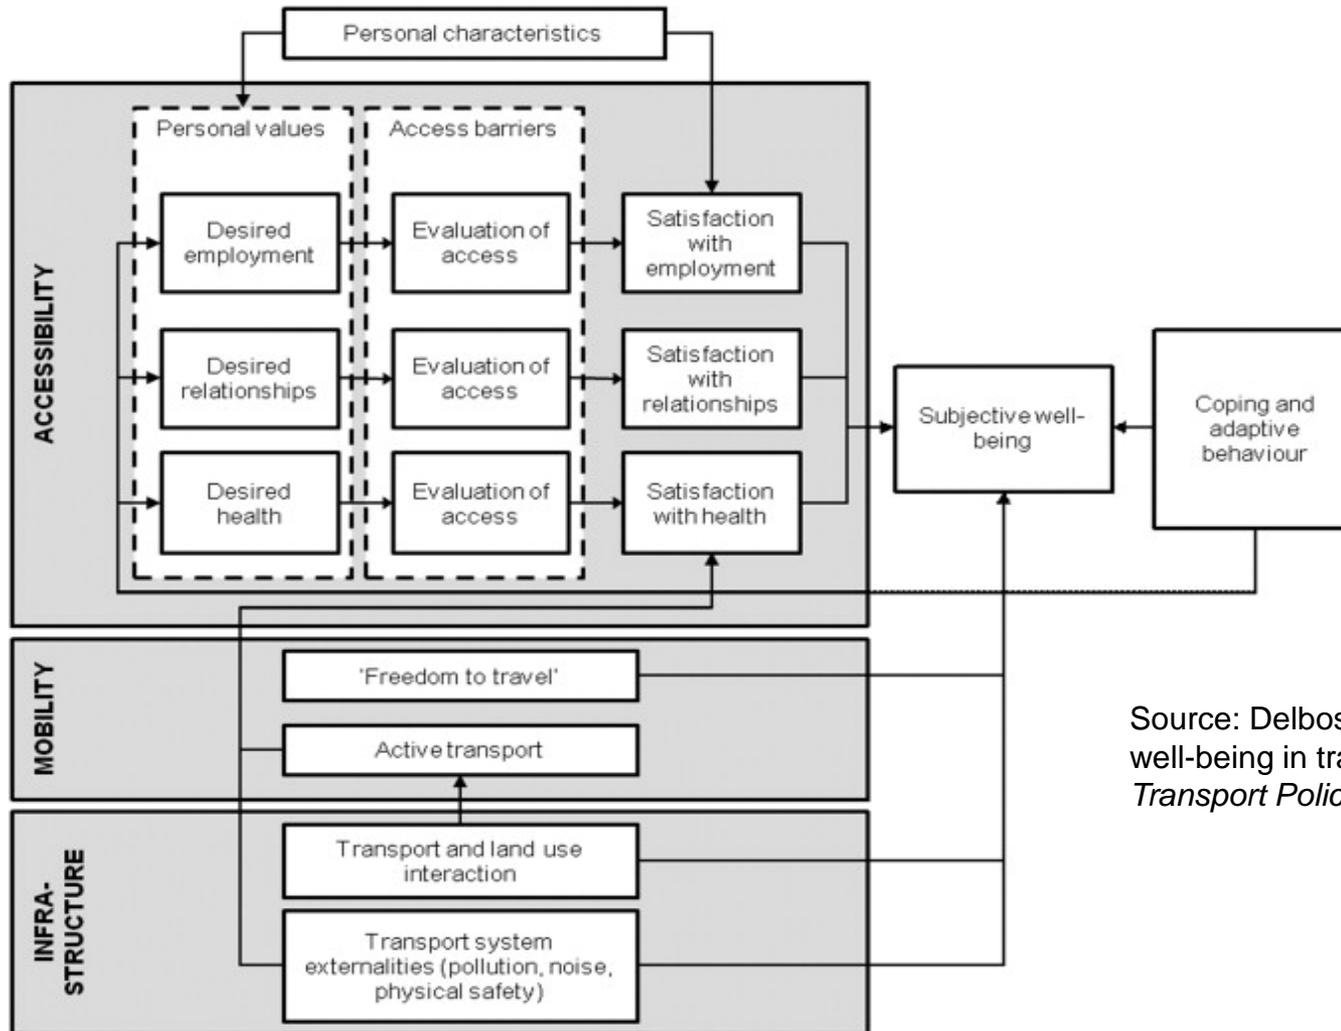

- Understand the role of transportation in health, well-being and overall quality of life.
- Understand federal, state and local initiatives on improving transportation for vulnerable populations and those with chronic health conditions.
- Understand the role of transportation and mobility managers in creating healthy communities.
- Panel of speakers followed by Q& A.

Order of presenters

- Mr. Fred Bowers, Federal Highway Administration – focusing on Transportation and Health Tool.
- Mr. Mark Simon, NYC Department of Transportation – focusing on improving air quality through a clean truck program.
- Ms. Susan Fowler, City Harvest – focusing on the efforts to increase access to fresh produce to vulnerable populations in NYC.
- Caryn Resnick, NYC Department for the Aging focusing on overall wellness.
- Stanley Zucker, InTandem – focusing on recreational transportation.
- Mr. Jonathan Lang, NYS Department of Health – focusing on Non-medical transportation services in NYS.

Transportation & Quality of Life Framework

Source: Delbosc, A. "The role of well-being in transport policy",
Transport Policy