New TM-1 Application Form for Fire Protection Plan Examination

The Bureau of Fire Prevention has developed a new form TM-1, a universal form to be used for the submittal of a Fire Protection Plan and other various types of plans that require examination. The form is available on the Fire Prevention web page under the Emergency Planning and Preparedness section. The TM-1 can be filled out and then printed for submittal. It must be signed and sealed by a registered architect (RA) or professional engineer (PE).
