Attention Drivers: New Taxi Relief Stand Established on Park Row

In conjunction with the NYC Department of Transportation and the Downtown Alliance, the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission has established a new taxi relief stand on the south side of Park Row, between Ann Street and Beekman Street, next to the J&R Electronics store.

The relief stand has two (2) spaces and is reserved for taxicabs seven (7) days a week, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Taxicab drivers are entitled to park in one of the reserved spaces for up to one (1) hour; use the J&R bathroom, which is located on the lower level; and are welcome to enjoy free coffee on the mezzanine level of the store.

For more information on this and other taxi relief stands, go to <http://www.nyc.gov/html/dot/html/motorist/taxirelief.shtml>.
